HENRY CABOT LODGE

TRIES TO PROVE MERIT IN HIS ELECTION BILL.

SOFT TALKING, BUT TIGER-HEARTED

A Monstrous Scheme to Upset All Local Authority-The Lard Bill Will Pass-Mr. Reed's Latest-General News.

Washington, March 18.—[Special.]—Lodge's national election law is still the main topic of discussion here. The southern members are particularly annoyed over the en-thusiastic reception the republicans over the country have given to the bill. They discuss nothing clse. Indeed, numbers of them are to be seen in groups around the capitol at all times, talking over the chances of its passage It is the almost unanimous opinion that the measure will pass the house by a strictly party vote, but the democrats hope to see it defeated vote, but the democrats hope to see it defeated in the senate. However, Quay will be on hand when it reaches that body. He will have the administration behind him in pushing it through, and although the democrats will attempt to stave off a vote indefinitely, by long speeches, it is highly probable Quay and Sherman will be able to force very service. be able to force a vote.

There are four main features in the bill which southern men particularly condemn.

1. That upon the petition of five hundred citizens in any district, congressional elec tions shall be placed under the supervision and control of federal authorities, the judge of the district court, who takes the control entirely away from state officers. 2. The district judges will then appoint two registrars for each election precinct. Any one of those registrars can order a name put on the registration list, but both registrars must con-our in striking one off.

3. The registrars with two inspectors and two assistant inspectors, six officers in all, shall hold discouns at such places as the inspectors shall fix.

4. On aplication of twenty-five citizens the deputy United States marshal in charge shall appoint as many additional deputies as he may deem necessary. In other words, he may have an array of marshals around the polls if he

A TALK WITH LODGE. I had a talk with Henry Cabot Lodge about his bill today. Here is what he says:

"My bill to regulate congressional elections is long, but on examination it will be found to be very simple in principle and in operation.

Its length is due to the provisions or the system of balloting. These provisions cannot be stated briefly, although, as has been shown in the Mas-sachusetts elections, nothing could be simpler than when they are in practical operation. The bill proceeds on two principes: That the United States should take compute charge of the election of its congressment, is the states do of the election of their state officers; and Australian or Massachusetts system, by secret and official ballot. There is a wide-spread belief, whether well or ill founded, that congressional elections are improperly affected by corruption and intimidation at the polls, or by fraud in registration or the count. The former evils are met by the Massachusetts system of balloting, the latter by the United States taking charge of the election of its own officers, and registering counting and returning the vote.

"The bill is absolutely fair as between the parties, and entirely national in its application. The election officers are to be appointed in capal number from the two leading parties. in equal numbers from the two leading parties by a judge of the United States court, who is a permanent officer, and to be relied on to ap-point proper representatives of both parties. The elections officers have an interest in seeing. that no unfair advantage is taken at the election, and they are exposed to heavy penalties for misconduct. They have power to assist a voter unable to read or write, but this assistance must be given in the presence of officers of the opposite party, and the penal-alties for disclosure are very severe: Every provision is made to secure absolute fairness between the parties, and unless some one party or personis now profiting by cheating at elections, there should be no objection to this bill. So far as the constitutional point goes, three can be no reason about the question of the absolute power of congress to take control of its own elections, and the decision of the supreme court in ex-parte Yarborough, really sets this matter at rest. No district, under this bill, is compelled to adopt the system, except on the petition of five hundred voters and unless there was a real need for putting : district under this act, this number could not as a rule, be easily secured.

The Massachusetts ballot meets the evils which are usually charged upon the elections in the north; the control of the elections by officers of the United States take equally with both parties, meets the evils attributed to the elections of the south. Thus it will be seen that the bill is distinctly national. It does not strike at any section, but the evils which beset our elections everywhere. I believe that it is in line with the general demand of the people that the elections of congressmen should be fair and above suspicion, and that there is no question of greater moment now before the country."

MR. ALLEN TALKS. When shown what Mr. Lodge had to say tonight, Representative John Allen, of Mississippi, said:
"I do not like Mr. Lodge's bill.

do not like Mr. Lodge's bill. I think the congressional elections should remain under the control of the states, where they have always been. Mr. Lodge thinks the system in Massachusetts a good one, and he wants to force it on the rest of the country, just because it is the Massachusetts system. Mr. Lodge is not the only man in congress who has state pride. I think the bill provides for a very cumbersome and expensive system, and puts the control of elections under the control of federal registrars and inspectors, to be appointed, it is true, by federal judges, and will be passed tomorrow or next day. Reed says that the democratic predictions of enormous appropriations by this congress shall not prove correct, and he seems to be showing that he means what he says.

The Georgia congressmen today received petitions by the score from all over Georgia, protesting against the passage of the compound lard bill; also telegrams that colored delegations from Atlanta and other points wanted to be heard before the committee. They are all late, however, for the committee has closed hearings. An effort was made to get them to reopen. They refused today, but the matter will be considered tomorrow and a final answer given. The south has been very late in coming to the front, but there is a bare possibility of defeating the bill if a very vigorous fight is made. rous fight is made.

THE PAN-AMERICANS.
The Pan-Americanists will leave here about the 10th of April. "We shall visit four places in Georgia," "We shall visit four places in Georgia," said Executive Officer Curtis tonight. "We shall first spend a day in Augusta, then a day in Atlanta, from whence, in honor of Major Hanson, we shall go to Macon, where he will entertain us. From there we shall probably go to Brunswick, spend two hours in the city, then go over to Jekyl Island club house for head of the control of the city. lunch, and leave that evening by boat for Fernandina, from whence we go to Jackson-ville." HAWLEY AGAINST THE BLAIR BILL.

The Senator Says Neither the North Nor the South Wants It.

Washington, March 18.—Immediately after morning business, consideration of the urgent deficiency bill was resumed.

The remainder of the amendments placed upon the bill by the appropriations committee were agreed to, and several others, added appropriating small sums. The bill was then passed.

were agreed to, and several others, added appropriating small sums. The bill was then passed.

The Blair educational bill was taken up at 2 o'clock, as "unfinished business," and Mr. Hawley addressed the senate in opposition to it. Mr. Hawley summed up the situation by saying that twenty-two northern states did not want the bill. They had no need of it. They would be ashamed to say that they wanted money. In fact, they would be giving more than they got—perhaps every one of them. Seven southern states had two senators each opposed to the bill distinctly, and expected to vote against it. That made twenty-nine states that did not need the bill, and it left twelve or thirteen more to be accounted for. Of the sixteen southern states, seven had both senators opposed to the bill, and the other nine were about equally divided. A majority of the senators from states that were formerly slave states, and for which the bill was intended, were today opposed to the bill. The great body of northern people were willing to do anything in the matter that would be reasonable, but they would be ashamed to be called stingy in trying to force "Spoon victuals" upon the south.

A number of senate bills, making the aggregate appropriation of $1,285,000 for public buildings in New England and the northwest, were passed.

House bill granting the Denison and Wachita Valley Railway company the right-of-way through Indian territory, and several bills of local interest, were passed and the senate, after 6 o'clock, adjourned.

SHERMAN AND THE TRUSTS. The Senator Reports a Substitute For His Former Bill.

Washington, March 18.—Mr. Sherman, from the committee on finance, reported to the senate today a substitute for his former bill against "trusts," in restraint of production, and it was placed on the calendar. In the shape presented today, Mr. Sherman thinks he has met and overcome all objections to the measure on tee ground of unconstitutionality. Members of the committee reserve the right to express their opinion of the bill when it comes up for consideration. The substitute provides that all arrangements, contracts, agreements, trusts or combinations, between two or more citizens or corporations, or both, of different states; or between two or more citizen or corporations, or both, of the United States, and foreign states; or citizens or corporations thereof, made with the view or which tend to prevent full and free comboth, of the United States, and foreign states; or citizens or corporations thereof, made with the view or which tend to prevent full and free competition in the importation, transportation or sale of articles imported into the United States; or with the view, or which tend to prevent full and free competition in articles of growth, production or manufacture of any state or territory of the United States, with a similar articles of growth, production or manufacture of any other state or territory; or in trasportation or in the sale of like articles, the production of any other state or territory; or in trasportation or in the sale of like articles, the production of any other state or territory; or in trasportation or within any other state or territory; in the United States, and all arrangements, trusts or combinations between such citizens or corporations, made with the view, or which tend to advance the cost to the consumer of any such articles, are hereby declared to be against public policy, unlawful, and void. And the circuit court of the United States shall have original jurisdiction of all suits of a civil nature atcommonlaw or equity arising under this section and to issue all remedial process, orders or writs, proper and necessary to enforce its provisions, and the attorney-general and the several district attorneys are hereby directed, in the name of the United States, to commence and prosecute all cares to final judgment and execution.

Sec. 2. That any person or corporation injured or damaged by such intrangement, contract, agreement, trust, or combination defined in the first section of this act, may see for and recover in any court of the United States of competent jurisdiction without respect to the amount involved, of any person or corporation, or party to the combination, described in the first section of this act, twice the amount of the damages sustained and the costs of suit, together with reasonable actorneys fees.

THE PENSION APPROPRIATIONS.

The House Discusses the Bill-The Am

Washineron, March 18.—Mr. Rogers, of Arkansas, presented in the house a telegraphic protest from the president of the Colored In-dustrial Fair association of Arkansas against dustrial Fair association of Arkansas against the proposition to tax cotton-seed oil. Referred.

At the expiration of the morning hour, the house went into a committee of the whole on the pension appropriation bill.

Mr. Morrow, of California, in charge of the hill (which appropriates $98, 427, 461) explains its provisions in detail, and, in reference to the general subject of pensions, said that it might safely be assumed that the number of pensioners would reach its maximum about July 1st, 1894, when the expenditure would be $112,000,000 on that date. Under the existing law the number of pensioners on the rolls would be 750,000.

At the close of Mr. Perkins's speech, the committee rose and the house adjourned.

be appointed, it is true, by federal judges, nine-tenths of whom are republicans, and many of them bitter partisans. I have never had much respect for Mr. Hodge's opinion of elections since I heard him declare on the floor of the house that he did not object to troops at the polls.

Speaker Reem's hartest.

Speaker Reem's hartest.

Speaker Reed's fron hand is felt almost daily in the house. He has his own way, matters not which party he has to suppress to do this. Today that mailed hand was felt by his own party. The leaders had determined to take up and pass the direct land tax bill. It carries an appropriation of $17,000,000. Reed thought there were other places where, perhaps, this money could be used to better party advantage, but whether there was or not, this matter must be delayed until it could be seen exactly what was to be done. Consequently he would not allow the bill to be taken up. Instead of the annual pension appropriation bill carrying in appropriation of $38,000,000, was discussed.

TO LET UP ON THE NEGRO QUESTION | SEVERAL IMPORTANT REDUCTIONS.

And Attend to the Wants of the White People of Kansas—The Farmers to Take a Hand in Politics.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 18.-The Farmers' Alliance in Kansas is growing so rapidly, both in members and perfection of organization that they have become a decidedly disturbing factor in local and state politics. State Organizer Jennings has just finished up a trip through the state, where he has been establish ing new ailiances, and extending the scope of the organization. Every county nearly in the whole state is organized, and especially nearly every farmer in each county is a member of the organization. Old alliances have been re-organized on the plan of one by one town-ship. Each county has a central organization, receives instructions from state headquarters, which are subordinate again to the Nationa Alliance. This thorough organization has made the order exceptionally strong.

In local politics, where their immediate interests are at stake, alliances have generally decided to support only their candidates, who coincide with their views and adopt their principles. In state politics similar action has been decided upon, and it has even been proposed to run a farmer candidate for governor in the person of A. W. Smith, better known as "Farmer" Smith, of McPherson.

A NOTE OF WARNING. The organization has already got its finger in the national political pie. The president of the Kansas Alliance has addressed to the Kansas senators and representatives, at Washington, a letter informing them that it is the belief among the farmers that the depression of agricultural interests is due to vicious legslation. The letter concludes thus:

Many of the questions that are receiving the at tention of cougress are far less urgent than those upon-which the safety of home and the welfare of family depend and people believe that the white citizens of Kansas have some rights as well as the citizens of Kansas have some rights as well as the colored citizens in the south. They believe that the fallen heroes, both white and black, in the past struggles for liberty, and the perpetuity of our institutions, can afford to wait for one moment until the right of living heroes in the present struggle for American homes, receive some recognition of the men who have been chosen to represent them in congress... Behind these demands are more than 100,000 ballots in the state of Kansas and the time is not far distant, when legislators will heed the voice of their constituents.

These indications of opposition of the alliance to monopolies are troubling the politi-cians and they are becoming decidedly

The Fortification Appropriation Bill Completed.

Washington, March 18.—The appropriations committee of the house today completed the fortification appropriation bill. The bill makes a total appropriation of $4,521,608, being $3,007,320 less than the estimates, $3,285,084 more than the last bill, and $599,678 more than the appropriation made at the first session of the last congress. The principal items are: Fortifications, repairs and preservation, $150,000; gun and mortar batteries, $1,221,000, divided as follows: Boston harbor, $235,000; New York, $726,000; San Francisco, $260,000; torpedoes, harbor defense, $230,000; armament of fortifications, $1,056,635; gun factory at Watervillet, N. Y., building and machinery, $1,256,043; sites for fortifications, $500,000, and the secretary of war is given authority to institute condemnation proceedings to secure desirable sites. A Daring Highway Robbery Committed on Saturday Night.

CHATTANOOA, Tenn., March 18.—[Special.] News has reached the city of a daring highway robbery Saturday night on Lookout mountain. John Cummings, one of the wealthiest citizens of Hamilton county, was driving across the mountains to his home, at Wauhatchie, when two highwaymen jumped from ambush. One seized the bridle of the horse-and stopped his vehicle. They then took him out and threw him violently to the ground, stunning him for a few moments. While he lay in an unconscious condition, the highwaymen robbed the vehicle of a week's supply of provisions, broke the conveyance into kindling wood, and left before he could recognize them. They also secured a small amount of money from his pockets. Great excitement prevails on the mountain over the affair.

Byrd Set at Liberty,

Opelika, Ala., March 18.—[Special.]—Jack Byrd, the young white man who figured so conspicuously in the Opelika police circles yesterday, an account of which appeared in The Construction, had his trial today. He was fined fifty dollars for carrying concealed weapons. The railroad authorities did not push their cases against him. Byrd paid the fine and was set at liberty.

Noland on Bail.

St. Louis, March 18.—A Jefferson City correspondent of the Post-Dispatch telegraphs that Prosecuting-Attorney Davidson, of Cole county, filed an information with Justice Wagner this morning charging ex-State Treasurer Noland with embezzling state funds. Noland was present at the time, gave himself up, and was admitted to ball in $5,000.

New York, March 18.—Financier Henry S. Ives was released on bail from the criminal charges against him at the general sessions court this afternoon. He was then taken over to the sheriff's office to give bail in the civil action. Bail in the civil case is $5,000; in the criminal case $25,000

The Tobacco Grower Not to Be Taxed at All-A Great Cut in the Manufacture Article-Licenses Abolished, Etc.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The republican nbers of the ways and means committ have practically agreed upon every point of division on tariff schedules and reductions onsideration before the end of the week. The clauses relating to carpet wools, Mexican lead cres, and one or two other articles, have not yet been finally and definitely passed upon. The bill is not absolutely completed and will, of course, be subject to revision. It is believed to be a substantially finished measure so far as the majority of the committee is con-

THE TAX TAKEN OFF TOBACCO. The internal revenue features of the bill are s follows: The entire abolition of all special as follows: The entire abolition of all special taxes upon dealers of all kinds, commonly known as licenses; the tax upon snuff will be repealed; farmers and planters growing tobacco will have the liberty to sell to whomseever they please without restraint in the same manner as any farmer can dispose of any other product of his land. The tax upon mauother product of his land. The tax upon manufactured tobacco will be reduced from eight cents to four cents per pound; eigars, cheroots and eigarettes will carry the same tax as is imposed under the present law. Alcohol used in the arts is free under substantially the same restrictions as are prescribed in the senate bill. The reductions in revenue from these sources will be in revenue from these sources will be in revenue from these sources. will be in round numbers between $17,000,000 and $19,000,000.

Following are among the principal provisions in the tariff schedules:

The earthenware and glassware schedules remain substantially as in the existing law. There are a number of important changes in the metal schedules. Existing rates are maintained upon iron ore and pig iron.

DUTIES ON IRON REDUCED.

Barbed wire for fencing is made dutiable at 6-10 cents a pound, which is below the duty upon that kind of iron entering into other uses. Beams, girders and structural iron is reduced from 1½ cents to 6-10 cents a pound, which is a reduction below that of the senate bill. Railway iron is reduced to 6-10 cents per pound, the present rate being $17 per ton, a reduction of about $4 a ton, and a reduction in the rate fixed by the senate bill. Duty on steel rails is reduced to $4 per ton. Duty on tin plate has been increased to 2-2-16 cents a pound. Pig tin remains free. The committee believe that with this encouragement tin plate will be manufactured in this country.

There is an increase in the duty upon pocket

There is an increase in the duty upon pocket There is an increase in the duty upon pocket cutlery, which the committee justify upon the ground of the depressed condition of that industry in the United States, and the sharp and rulneus competition that has already been felt from Germany. Gun barrels are placed upon the free list. Hand-sewing needles are also placed on the free list. The new metal—signatum is given a designation for the first time under "metals and manufactures" thereof, and is made dutiable at thirty-five per cent advalorem.

In the lumber schedule the duty on sawed boards, planks and finished lumber is reduced fifty per cent from the present rate. There is a special provision inserted that in case Canada lays an export duty upon lumber, then duties shall be collected according to the rates under lays an export duty upon lumber, then duties shall be collected according to the rates under the existing laws.

The duties on Samatra tobacco is increased to $2.75 per pound.

There is an increase generally along the entire list in duties upon agricultural products. The duty upon barley is raised to 30 cents per bushel, hops to 15 cents per pound, buckwheat to 15 cents per bushel, maccaroni and vermacella, 2 cents a pound; cats 10 cents a bushel.

The duty on agricultural seeds is increased. The duty on rice is reduced from 2½ to 2 cents a pound; rice, flour and rice meal, from 1 cent to ½ cents a pound, and broken rice to ½ cents a pound. Butter, and the substitutes therefor, have the duty increased to 6 cents a pound. The duty on eggs is raised to 5 cents a dozen; potatoes to 25 cents a bushel.

Hides, which are now on the free list, are made dutiable at 1½ cents a pound. There is a small increase in the duty upon fruits. Oranges and lemons in packages of one and a quarter cubic feet or less, 25 cents per package, in packages exceeding 1½, and not exceeding 2½ cubic feet 50 cents a package. Raisins 2½ cents a pound duty. Advances in duties have generally been conceded to the farming interests, where it is believed the increased duties will benefit the farmer.

Spirits, wines and other beverages have been left as found in the existing law. Salt also has not been touched.

been left as found in the existing law. Sait also has not been touched.

Cotton manufacturers are left substantially as in the senate bill. Jute, manilla and sisal grass are put upon the free list as is wool de gras which enters into the finishing of leather. A reduction is made in duty on binding

AS TO WOOL

In the wool schedule wools of the first class known as clothing wools, eleven cents a pound wools of the second class, known as combing known as clothing wools, eleven cents a pound, wools of the second class, known as combing wools, twelve cents; carpet wools, valued at twelve cents or less, 3½ cents per pound; valued at over twelve cents, eight cents a pound. This is a reduction of one-half cent a pound from the senate bill and an increase of 1½ cents from the present law. It is believed, however, that the definitions and classifications and restrictions provided for will make this duty even more valuable to wool growers than the duty fixed by the senate. In the Mills bill, wool was put on the free list, and the duty given to manufacturers of woolen fabrics was from forty to forty-five per cent. As this bill makes wool dutiable, it gives compensation to the manufacturers for the duty imposed upon wool. The difference between the duty given to the manufacturers by the Mills bill and the proposed measure is only ten per cent, after giving to the manufacturers a compensatory duty upon wool. Yarns and cloths are made dutiable at forty per cent ad valorem additional, woolen goods at fifty per cent and ready made clothing at sixty per cent. The carpet schedule has not yet been definitely arranged. It is understood, although there is some division in the committee upon the subject, that for the encouragement of silk culture in the United States a duty will be recommended upon raw silk.

Sugar, under and including 16 Dutch standard, is made dutiable at thirty-five per cent. This gives five per cent additional duty to refiners and as the standard is raised from and above 16 Dutch standard at forty per cent. This gives five per cent additional duty to refiners and as the standard is raised from 13 to 16, the people of the United States will be enabled in case the refiners combine to put up prices, to import sugar which will be in every way fit for family use. This is a cut in the duties upon sugar of from fifty to sixty per cent. Molasses is made dutiable at twenty-five per cent advalorem, the present rate being specific. This is a considerable reduction.

The committee has not yet settled what present rate being specific. This is a considerable reduction.

The committee has not yet settled what duties shall be levied upon lead ores, this being one of the few matters yet to be definitely passed upon. Among the new legislatives provisions proposed in the bill is one that no importations shall be made into the United States which do not show plainly the country from which they are imported. This is done

THEY MEAN BUSINESS. The bill also repeals that section of the statutes which gives to the United States and contractors under it, the right to import supplies into this country free of duty. By this means it is intended to require the United States and all of its officers and contractors to be bound by the laws which it establishes for its citizens. TO PREVENT IMPOSITION.

It is estimated by the framers of the bill that it will reduce revenues about $60,000,000.
Of this reduction, from $25,000.000 to $27,000,000 will be secured by the cut on sugar, and from $17,000.000 to $19,000.000 by the internal revenue features of the bill and the free list, which contains with few exceptions, all the items in the senate bill and a few others which were not in the senate bill, will, it is estimated, make a reduction of between $1,250,000 and $1,500,000. Revisions made throughout the tariff schedules are expected to make up the difference between the sums named and $60,000.000.

WHITESIDE HAS SKIPPED

With the Fair, but Very Frail Mrs. Metz and the City's Money.

CHATTANOGGA, Tenn., March 18.—[Special.]—Two months ago the city council of Chattanoga obtained the services of Frank Goodman, of Nashville, as an expert to examdone for over two years. At a city council meeting tonight the expert reported that in January and February, Treasurer Lazard drew warrants for $6,862.50 in favor of outside credtiors of the city, and indersed the same to City Auditor Veron S. Whiteside, to be paid to the said creditors. These amounts, the ex-pert reported, have not been received by the Upon receipt of this information, the city council declared the office of Auditor White-side vacant, and installed the new auditor, T.

In this connection, a few interesting circumstances arise, and may develop into a gennine, tremendous sensation. [The separation of Mr. Ed. A. Metz and wife here last month, is remembered, and at that time it was thought that the separation was caused by the interference of a prominent Chattaneoga official. Mrs. Metz left for Chicago, and a few days later was joined there by City Auditor Whiteside, whom it is said is greatly enamored f her. Since then Whit turned to the city, and neither has the money turned over to him been heard from. Ineffec-tual attempts have been made by his relatives to find him, but to no avail.

The last heard of him he was in Detroit, presumably facing towards Canada, accompanied by Mrs. Metz. An attempt has been made here to strangle the sensation, but as the relatives of the auditor have refused to sign a paper to assume the amount of his de-falcation, the matter came in an official way before the board.

THE SON OF A WELL KNOWN WOMAN.

The expert is now working on the books of the auditor, which have not been posted since last October, and startling revelations are looked for. Vernon Whiteside is a son of Mrs. Harriett L. Whiteside, one of the richest women in the state, and former owner of the entire top of Lookout mountain. He has a most estimable wife and three bright children living here. During his term of six years service as city auditor he made a most enviable record, but since his intimacy with Mrs. Metz which began over a year ago, he has seemed to lose all self-control and interest in his family. The escapade of the auditor with Mrs. Metz. and the fear that he has absconded with con siderable of the city's money, in company with the woman, has produced a tremen

Two months since, Khea county, in this state, was stirred up tremendously over a sensational elopement, in which the helpmate of one Jonn Hously took his and her three small boys, and went off with a farmer, named J. K. Brown, who left behind him, a wife and seven children of assorted sizes. Search has been made by the deserted husband and wife for the faiihless spouses, who have finally been run to earth. They were apprehended living as man and wife, at Concord, Tenn., by Sheras man and whe, as concord, I came, by suc-iff Brown and his deputy of Rhea county, who took the elopers to Dayton, the county seat, where they will be arraigned and a very seat-sational trial will follow.

Bank Wrecker Faulkner's Little Sch Failed. ALBANY, N. Y., March 18 .- The Evenin

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18.—The Evening Journal publishes a story this evening to the effect that Lester B. Faulkner, the wrecker of the Danville bank, who is supposed to have died January 27th, is still living in Mexico. He availed himself, it is said, of the death of his gardner to have the body buried as his own and quietly left the country. It is said United States government officers have become aware of the cheat, and at the present term of court in Utica, which commenced today, will proceed against Faulkner's bondsmen for the amount of their bonds.

Request to Reviore the Duke of Cum-berland to Hanover's Throne.

BERLIN, March 18.—5 p. m.—It is just announced that Prince Bismarck's resignation of the chancellorship was accepted by the emperor at noon today.

It is reported that the emperor proposes to appoint General Von Caprivi, who is now commander of the Tenth army corps, to the chanmander of the Tenth army corps, to the chancellorship.

The National Gazette says:
The gratitude toward the restorer of Germany that is filling the heart of Germans at this critical time proves that Prince Rismarck will long be remembered as the personification of Germany's growth and prosperity.

The National Gazette believes that Count Herbert Bismarck will remain in office. It says that the Prussian ministry has not resigned.

WHAT CAUSED THE TROUBLE.

It is stated today in well-informed political circles that the present difference between the emperor and Prince Bismarck is irreconcilable. that arises from the chancelor's refusal to accede to a request made by Dr. Windthorst, leader of the clerical party in Germany, to restore to the duke of Cumberland, claimant of the throne of Hanover, the larger portion of the Guelph fund.

The attitude of the emperor in opposing Prince Bismarck in this matter is taken as an indication of his desire to conciliate the clerical party. If the government is to secure a working majority in the new reichstag, it cannot well go without the party of the center, which Dr. Windthorst controls.

which Dr. Windthorst controls.

THE DEBATE IN THE DIET.

When the public worship estimates came up for discussion in the lower house of the Prussian diet, today, Dr. Windthorst said it had been his intention to review the position of the Catholics in Prussia, but that he would desist owing to the uncertainty of the political situation.

owing to the uncertainty of the political situa-tion.

Dr. Gossler, minister of ecclesiastical affairs and public instruction, said he shared the view expressed by Dr. Windthorst that the church, school and state ought to work together. Rad-ical changes, he declared, were impending in the field of education. A new organization would mainly be effected on the lines of the emperor's recent decree dealing with cadets in colleges.

THE MINISTRY RESIGN.

THE MINISTRY RESIGN.

Tolegrams were subjected to censorship until 2 o'clock this afternoon, after which all were allowed to pass.

The resignation of all the ministry was merely the customary formal act, but it is reported that Count Herbert Bismarck and Minister Maybach really intend to resign. Rickert and Goldschmidt and other freissinning deputies were invited to a court banquet tonight. Never before has a member of the freissinning party been so honored. It is stated that the freissinning professor, Handl, and Herr Miguel will be invited to enter the cabinet as an earnest of the emperof's desire to legislate for the people.

ANGERED BISMARCK.

LONDON, March 18.—A dispatch from Berelin says: It is reported that Prince Bismarck was incensed because Herr Hentzpeter composed the labor rescripts without his being consulted; that the chancellor recently had a dispute with Boettlcher, whom the emperor favored, and that he also differed from the emperor about colonial matters and was determined not to recall his resignation.

EXTERTAINING THE DELEGATES.

ENTERTAINING THE DELEGATES.

Prince Bismarck and Count Herbert Bismarck lunched with members of the labor confrance today. The emperor received the delegates at 5 o'clock and subsequently presided at a banquent given to them in the picture gallery of the castle. Jules Simon sat on the right of the emperor at the banquet. Besides the delegates Count Von Moltke, Herr Von Boctticher, minister for the interior, Henry Mayback, minister of public works and Count Herbert Bismarck were present. The emperor Herbert Bismarck were present. The emperor and empross conversed at length with the delegates, the emperor expressing himself as gratified at the excellent prospects of a successful termination of the labors of the con

The Sun's Cotton Review The Sun's Cotton Review.

New York, March 18.—Fintures declined sharply today. The bulls were forced to unload a good deal of cotton. Reports from Lancashire of the closing of mills from a scarcity of coal, gave the market a downward turn. Then later came the report of the resignation of the cabinet at Berlin, when a further eccline took place. Some buying to cover in the last half hour caused a steady closing. The statistical position in this country appears to be at present wholly ignored. Cotton on spot was one-sixteenth cent lower. Midding uplands 11%, gnifs 11%.

The attorneys argued until noon regarding the admissibility of the Dodge deeds as evidence. The court ruled them adm Letters written by Hall to one Louis Knight were also offered as evidence, and these were objected to, the court ruling them admiss ble and ordering them read.

WHAT THE LETTERS CONTAIN. hey are as follows:

They are as follows:

EASTMAN, Ga., Nov. 22, '89—Louis Knight:
Dear Sir:—Enclosed I send you copy of deeds, as I wish to get up deeds just like these, except as to age, and send them as early next week as you can, and I will make it all right with you. Write me what day you can send them. Respectfully,
P. S. I will send more soon.

L. A. HALL.
L. A. H. WERE THEY DISCLOSED? Judge Speer here asked the meaning of the words "except as to age."

The prosecuting attorney stated that they understood it to refer to a discoloration resorted to by Hall, and which was apparent on other deeds made by him. The court had heard of such means being used where it was desired to lend the papers a time-worn appearance. The following note accompanied a lot of blank deeds sent by Hall to Knight, ostensibly for the purpose of being used by Knight: Use this if you can. As soon as possible send me. I have sent for some that are better. L. A. HALL.

HALL WAS GOING HALVES Witness Evans was put on the stand, and testified he held a deed made to him by Hall and signed by one R. P. Tripp, of whom he ver heard. The deed was witnessed by one Sullivan, but John L. was the only one of that name he had ever heard of. The witness evidently understood the transaction, for he stated that he paid no money for the deed, nor was he to pay; he was simply to take po session of the land, make improvements, at I in case of suit the colonel was to take half it it for his fees if successful. After the diselefor his fees, if successful. After the decision were made out he happened to think of one other lot he wanted and he went back an informed the colonel, who kindly inserted the other number, no one else being present.

The deed was produced and identified. This ended the evidence for the morning.

The negro, Goodwin, who yesterday admitted perjuring himself, was placed under a bond of $200 to appear before the commissioner in case action was taken against him. He was also required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance as a witness for the government in case a similar action was made against the colonel.

The judge discharged the jurors for the district and circuit courts for the term.

THE OHIO "UPLIFTERS"

RECEIVE A WITHERING REPLY FROM GOVERNOR FOULE

Who Advises Them to Study One of the Com mandments Which They Seem to Have Forgotter

RALEIGH, N. C., March 18 .- [Special.]-Governor Fowle yesterday received a letter written by John Peterson, J. Rothweiler, L. A. Rothweiler, L. F. Vancleve and E. B. Hill, a committee appointed by the Cincinnati Methadist church organization, numbering a hundred ministers, in regard to Rev. T. M. Joyner, who has become so notorious by his complaints of assault in Randolph county, and complaints of assault in Randolph county, and by his dismissal by a negro congregation near here. The letter is remarkable in tone, and states that Joyner and his wife were set upon December 3d, by masked men, who inflicted many wounds upon them; that they have been refused redress by the officers of the law, and have been shamefully traduced by newspapers, and are refused an opportunity of preaching the gospel elsewhere in North Carolina, and of earning their support. The committee then, in the name of the nation and of their church, enters a protest against these outrages, whether perpetrated by masked assassins or cowardly intimidators, of cringing negroes or false and mischief making newspapers.

To this letter the governor today replied.

THE GOVERNOR'S ANSWER You seem to be a very simple and credulous people, striving with more zeal than judgment to right what you assume to be a great wrong. I answer you with the same simplicity and frankness. I know the kiad hearted but excitable colored peohen their sympathies have been thorough ed. If Joyner was treated as you charge, th justice requires that the people who assaulted him should be rigorously punished, and the courts in North Carolina stand ready to give Joyner their assistance whenever he demands it. The county in which the outrage is said to have been committed is republican, the population being composed of the Quaker element, and there is no composed of the Quaker element, and there is no question that the perpetrators of the offense would have been punished if Joyner had been able to show that anyone had injured him, but, infortunately, he did not do so. Even in Cincinnati you will see the unreasonablenss of attempting to punish a man for crime before he can be identified. Your whole communication is based upon the Indian practice of taking revenge, when one of his tribe has been injured, upon the first his tribe has been injured, upon the first one he meets, whether the guilty one or not. In re-one in meets, whether the guity one or not. In regard to the negroes in the church meeting at Oberlin, who requested Joyner to depart from their midst, if you think that congregation is composed of cringing negroes who had been intimidated by cowards, you are evincing a degree of credulity without workled. without parallel—even among our negroes Oberlin is a colored town in the republican county of Wake. Its inhabitants are as respectable and independent as you find in any colored commun Judging from your letter, there are not men among you who would resist oppression like this respectaple church of colored men, whom you have the aindactity to denounce as cringing negroes. The M. E. church south, in North Carolina, is one of the largest and most influential denomination in the state, and would never submit quietly to the courts refusing justice to any one entitled to its protection, but it is unreasonable for you to require any more protection for Joyner than the

A Singular Happening to a Young Man in Augusta.

Augusta, Ga., March 18.—[Special.]—Mr. Eugene Dawson, a popular traveling man for T. S. Lewis & Co., had a singular attack Sunday night. He was in Augusta Sunday and spent the day with his mother and the family of his brother, Mr. F. J. Spratting. Before he left the hotel Sunday morning, he had an attack of bleeding at the nose, which lasted nearly an hour—so long that a physician was telephoned for. The bleeding stopped, however, before he arrived. Mr. Dawson felt no unpleasant effects, and went around to his brother's house, where he spent the day. After 10 o'clock last night, just before he was about to leave for the hotel, his nose began bleeding again. It had bled copiously for more than an hour when a physician was summoned. It was nearly 2 a. m. before the bleeding was stopped. Mr. Dawson was much exhausted from the loss of blood and is still confined to his room at his brother's home.

Therefore, be it ordained by the Mayor and General Council aforesaid, that in accordance with the Constitution and Laws of said State, an election shall be held on the twenty-tbird (23d) day of April, 1890, to determine the question whether said water bonds and sewer bonds, or either series of said proposed bonds, shall be issued by said city, and that notice to the people (qualified voters of said city), be published in The Atlanta Evening Journal, for the space of thirty days next preceding the day of said election as provided by law, said bonds to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. (4 per cent per annum, and to run not exceeding thirty years from the date thereof, the interest to be paid semi-annually, on the first days of January and July of each Acar, and the principals of said bonds to be fully paid off within thirty years from the date to insuance thereof. If the issue of said water bonds, an eswer bonds, or either of such series of bonds, is voted by the requisite two-thirds of the qualified voters of said city, then, and before the proposed dett is incurred, an erdinance or ordinances shall be passed providing for the issue and sails thereof, and making provision at the same time for the assessment and collection of annual taxes sufficient in amount to pay the principal and interest of said effect within thirty years from the date of incurring said indebtedness.

But this shall not operate to increase the annual tax on real estate or personal property beyond the charter rate charter rate of one and one-half (1½) per centum per annum.

At said election, the voters shall have printed or written on their ballots "For Water Bonds," or "Against Water Bonds," and shall also have printed or written on their ballots "For Sewer Bonds" or "Against Sewer Bonds." And each voter may on the same ballot for or against either water bonds or sewer bonds, or for the one and against the other, or for both or against both, or may vote with reference to the one and not vote as to the other, as he may desire.

Said election shall be held as municipal elections in this city are held, and conducted in like manner, and in accordance with sections 508 I to 508 M. inclusive. of the code of the state of Georgia.

I certify that the foregoing preamble and ordinance were adopted by the mayor and conneil of the city of Atlanta on March 17, 1890, and concurred in by the aldermanic board on the same day, and approved by the mayor of said city on March 18, 1890.

A Terrible Eczema

One of the worst cases on record. Seventeen years of fearful suffering. Head, face, and cars, one solid seab. Body a mass of disease. Hair matted, lifeless, or gone. Limbs contracted and helpless. Unable to walk. Got about on hands and knees. Physicians and all medicines useless. No hope of relief or cure. ONE OF LEWIS'S ANGELS

ARRESTED FOR ROBBING THE MAILS YESTERDAY MORNING

A Negro Sub Mail Carrier Arrested Yester day on Suspicion of Having Robbed the Mails of Valuable Packages.

One of Lewis's angels!

He sleeps in the stationhouse, and after his short official fever, he rests well. Saturday last George C. Bancraft, one of the oldest, best and most reliable carrier the Atlanta postoffice has ever had, lost several valuable registered packages.

Martin is presumed to have been a factor in The packages were addressed to Max Kuitz, Ryan Sons and the New Home Sewing Machine company, all on Mr. Bancroft's route. Before leaving the office the packages were taken from his pouch and Mr. Bancroft at once reported his loss.

The government detective and the city detectives were both notified of the theft.

Captain Manly and Special Officer Ed. Cason, arrested a negro yesterday morning, named N. G. Martin, who has been for a short time an under carrier in the postoffice. Detective | Clark of the | postoffice department, found strong evidence of the guilt of Martin, and turned him over to the local officials. The evidence against Martin is very strong, and after his arrest, Detective Cason had a long talk with him, and he is convinced of his guilt.

Martin was drunk Saturday night, and gave his mother twenty-five dollars, which was found yesterday. He paid a hackman five dollars, and another man four dollars and a half, which were found during the investigation vesterday. tion yesterday.

The case is one which may develop some sensational features, and the whole thing will be fully ventilated in the higher courts.

The location of the registrars, however, has not been settled further than one will be at the city hall. The ordinance providing for the registration says of the other two one must be near the corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets and one must be near the corner of Marietta and Peachtree streets.

At each place a book will be kept for each of the six wards.

The indications are that the registration will be heavy—unusually so. The property owners were growing quite interested just before the election was ordered off and many complaints about the registration were indulged in. The voters appear to appreciate the importance of the matter and the vote will probably be a beaux one.

Moving On .- Colonel John Miledge is enthusiastic over the outlook for a great demon-stration on Memorial Day. He said yesterday stration on Memorial Day. He said yesterday that ex-confederates from all over the country would be in atlanta during the encampment. A one-fare rate has been obtained from all poluts south of the Potomac and east of the Onio and Mississippi rivers, and it is more than probable that the same rate will be extended beyond those boundries. All the veteraus are delighted at the prospect of such a grand reunion and again rallying around their old commander.

The Gymnasts.—On Friday evening, of this week, the members of the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium will give an exhibition which will doubtless be a most interesting and most enjoyable affair, under the direction of Professor Whitman. The "gym" has become a great success, and has been very liberally patronized. Some of the members are wonderfully extractived. ized. Some of the members are wonderfully proficient, and the exhibition will be worth seeing.

Lecture on the Creation.—This evening, at 7:30 coclock, Rev. I. S. Hopkins, D. D., president of Tochnological school, will deliver at Merritts avenue church a lecture on "The Creation." Dr. Hopkins is well prepared to discuss this theme, and all who attend will be instructed and entertained. Seats are free, and the public invited.

Ovid Musin's Concert Co .- Music lovers will learn with pleasure that this famous concert company will visit Atlanta April 1st. This troupe of artists is one of the best now traveling. Masin is a great violinist, and is accompanied by Miss Annie Louise Vanner, prima donna soprano; Miss Charlotte Nacolai, prima donna contralto; Signor Clamette Nacolai, prima donna contralto; Signor Charlotte Nacolai, prima donna contralto; Signor Clemente Bologna, baritone; Mr. Edward Kharp Bolo-pianist. In the city of San Francisco-the company gave fifteen concerts consecutively, a thing never done before by any concert troupe.

"I see indications," he remarked yesterday,
"that a struggle for life is about to begin in this city, among the different to begin in this city, among the different to making processes. My purpose is to give mine a fair chance in the fight. My present effort is directed to increasing my ice making power, massing the ice in greater bulk, and to expeditiously, cheaply, and neatly putting it out at the time it is wanted.

the time it is wanted. "I use my own patents exclusively. "I commenced my ice making career in San Francisco twenty-one years ago. I still hold my inventors' interest in the original ice factory I built there. It has made more clear money than any other ice factory in the world, and still stands at the head. I have, of course, enlarged and improved it at different times."

"Have you taken out many patents?"
"About a dozen in all. My earlier patent have expired, several are now in force, and some are still pending in the patent office. It was through these improvements, that I fully doubled the output of my New Orleans factory last summer, making it over ten thousan tons. Some days as high as eighty tons were called for, and furnished. Pressing demands for improvements in my other factories, have compelled me to neglect this one; but the Georgia ice factory's turn has co it will now be put on the same footing with

"The ice is formed from the center outward "The ice is formed from the center outward, under flowing streams of water, making it pure and brilliant. With the improvements now in progress, I can mass ice in this factory to the extent of twenty-five hundred tons, and put it out in regular-shaped blocks, as needed for the market. My freezing process is a combination of the compression and absorption systems. All other machines depend on one or the other of these processes alone. By the combination I fully utilize the expansive force of the live steam, and the heating power of the exhaust steam, returning the water of condensation to the boilers.

the furnace is the measure of the ice produced in the freezing chamber.

"Nature, it seems, has absolutely forbidden any short or easy methods in ice making, whether it be by 'improved distillation,' 'automatic,' 'double expansion' or any other method. I see one party claims he can produce eight pounds of ice to one of ammonia. A pound of anhydrous ammonia absorbs 860 units of heat in passing from the liquid to the gaseous form. A pound of water gives out 142 units of heat in passing from the liquid to the solid form, which gives about six pounds of ice to the pound of ammonia, if the operation is conducted without any loss; but with the best possible arrangement there is a very great loss. I see nothing in the alleged inventions except changes of construction, which may be indefinitely varied."

ice factory?"
"The first intelligence we have of ice "The first intelligence we have of ice making dates from 1824. At that time Farriday, the great English chemist, demonstrated to his class, by actual experiment, the principle of producing cold by the vaporization of volatile fluids. In 1837, Jacob Perkins, a Boston yankee, patented in England the first ice machine known to the world. Perkins's machine was of no practical value, but it contained apparatus for the compression, condensation, vaporization, and return for continuous use, of a volitile fluid, ether. This is substantially the principle employed today. Early in the fifties, Alexander Twining, of New Haven, and Dr. John Gorrie, of Savannah, made important improvements. About 1869, Ferdinand Phillip Edward Carre, a Frenchman, introduced ammonia and the absorption process. Between '60 and '70 the mahufacture of ice began to make some progress. In 1870 I introduced the San Francisco atmospheric condensation, which has since come into general use. Four the San Francisco atmospheric condensation, which has since come into general use. Four years later I introduced my pipe system of absorption, and in 1875 my process of freezing from the center ontward, and under flowing stream of water. Within the past two years I have perfected my compress-absorption system. What the next step will be I am unable

THE LAND OF THE PHARAORS. As Portrayed by Rabbi Reich at the Library

Expectation was on tip toe at the library last night.

For the first time an Atlanta audience had the privilege of listening to Rabbi Leo Reich, whose interesting, scholarly face has become quite familiar to those who have attended the course of lectures in the library hall, for he has been one of those faithful ones whose Spartan like heroism was so highly commended by Dr. McDonald in his lecture two weeks ago.

Owing to sudden tilness, Professor Sternberg was prevented from filling his part of the programme, to the disappointment of all present. No one, however, left the hall with any sense of disappointment, for the lecture was full of information, chartainly given, and the hour passed most agreeably. The programme for the next two lecturet will be announced later. Expectation was on tip toe at the library

THE STRIKING JOURS.

The Tailors Have Not Returned to Work

The jour tailors are still on a strike.

The merchant tailors are still sending the goods to Nashville, Macon, Chattanoga and New York to have the sewing done.

The strike, however, will probably end today. A compromise was almost reached yesterday, and it may be secured today.

One pocket only is in the way.

In making a pair of trousers a jour must put in a given number of pockets and for more than that number he is entitled to pay. In the adjustment about to be made yesterday the jours wanted extra pay for watch pockets, and the merchants refused to give it. Those who are in position to know claim that the trouble will be settled probably today.

Both parties are taking things quietly. The jours are conducting themselves quietly and are making friends. The merchant tailors are in a fine humor, too, but are determined not to surrender.

The bill at the opera house yesterday afternoon and last night was the ever-popular "Two Orphans." The Pearl Melville company gave a very acceptable production of the play, which was enjoyed by fair audiences.

Tonight the play is "The Wells-Fargo Messenger." Popular prices prevail.

Uniform Taxation Adopted. SAVANNAH, Ga., March 18.—[Special.]—In accordance with the recent decision of the supreme court, the city council tonight assessed all property, real and personal, one and a half per cent. Heretofore, real estate has paid at least four times as much tax as stocks, bonds, and other personality. That was decided to be unconstitutional, and a uniform rate has been imposed.

Humors run riot in the blood in the spring months. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels every trace of humor, tones up the whole body, gives a good appetite, and regulates the digestion.

Review of the Situation in Hancoc County—The Governorship Down All Claimed.

SPARTA, Ga., March 18.—[Special.]—Politics is opening up quite lively in Hancock, considering the winter is yet with us. Hon. R. H. Lewis, Mr. Julian West and Mr. S. N. Chapman are prominently spoken of for the lower house. The names of Hons. Seaborn Reese, John L. Culver, Ivy W. Duggan and J. W. Moon are mentioned in connection with the senatorship of the 20th district. They are all good men and true, and any one of them will make a first rate senator

THE CONGRESSIONAL RACE. In the meantime the congressional cauldron boiling. It is now certain that Hon. H. H. Carlton will be antagonized for the next congress by Hon. F. H. Colley, of Wilkes, and Judge T. G. Lawson, of Putnam. It is also rumored, but without certainty, that Hon. W. M. Howard, the able solicitor-genepal of the Northern circuit will likewise be in the field. If all these gentlemen enter the race it will be lively and the campaign will be a memorable

THE FARMERS CONSIDERED. It is gratifying to note the fact that our armers in Hancock have thus far evinced no lisposition to enter upon the coming campaign in a spirit of antagonism to all other classes, or indeed to any class. Our agricultural class is marked by intelligence, independence, and conservatism. They show every disposition to work in harmony with the democratic party and to utilize that great party in working out any reforms they may demand for themselves. Through their intelligence, in-tegrity, and patriotism they will be felt, as they always have been, as a most polential factor in all our political movements; it could not be otherwise of such men than they should largely mold and govern in the choice of repatives. The various alliances are actively at work in the county, and have done incalculable good to the agricultural interests

FATHER KEILEY IN CHARLESTON. He Pre i hes There on the Attacks of Senator

Blair on the Church. CHABLESTON, S. C., March 18 .- [Special.] -Rev. B. I. Keiley, vicar general of the Catho-lic diocese of Savannah, and pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Atlanta, preached at St. Patrick's church, in this city, yesterday. His sermon has created quite a sensation He denounced in round terms the text books ased in the public schools, and paid his re spects to Senator Blair. The very principle of individual liberty, he said, when rightly con-strued, is due to the teaching of the Catholic church. The speaker then went on spoke of the early church, its sufferings under the Roman emperors, and the persecutions of its members. He referred specifically to the at-tacks upon the Catholic religion in Ireland by Henry the Eighth, Elizabeth, "the worthy daughter of an infamous sire," and Cromwell, whom the speaker said filled all the requirements of the anti-Christ. All these attempts to crush out the religion implanted by St.

Patrick were futile, as shown in history. Special reference was made to the polemical controversy which arose here recently during the visit of Cardinal Gibbons, and the laying of the corner-stone of the new cathedral. On that occasion the Rev. W. T. Thompsen of the First Presbyterian church here, published a card denouncing the Catholic church, and especially the Protestants whe had attended the services on that occasion. He said he was not surprised that people should be carried away with their own feeling of intolerence, even at the expense of good manners and social etiquette. He was not surprised at all to hear the Catholic church decounced as much in hardware stores. ounced as sunk in barbarous ignorance, etc. on the public rostrum, or even on the floors of Whilden was about thirty years old; was formerly in the wholesale grocery busines here, but recently has been in the real estat and loan business. Last Thursday mornin he left the city to go to Decatur, Ala., stating that he would return that night. Next morning his wife received a letter from him, stat ing that he was compelled to go down the river to see a man on important business, and would return Friday night. That was the last she heard from him. THE LAST SEEN OF HIM. Advices from Decatur state that on Friday morning he hired a skiff to go to Brown's Landing, a short distance below

Saturday, Mrs. Whilden became ala and Sunday she went up to Decatur. Detectives were sent down the river, and on investi gation, a short distance below the dam, he found a hat, which he sent back here, and which has been fully identified as the one worn by Whilden when he left the city. The skiff has not been found. Friends of the miss-ing man, with detectives, went to Decatur this morning, but tonight they telegraphed back that nothing new has been discovered. Mrs. Whilden was about to become a mother, and when she heard of the finding of her husband's hat in the river, she went into convulsions, and her physicians think that she can't recover inless the suspence is ended soon Whilden married about two years ago a daughter of Captain Woods, a wealthy s boat man of New Orleans. Mrs. Woods, Mrs. Whilden's mother, has been with her daughter for several days. THE MYSTERY OF THE CASE. Now comes the mystery. None knows Whilden's business at Decatur, or the name of any man at Brown's Ferry with whom he could possibly have any acquaintance or business transactions. He told his wife he had important business at Decatur, but did not explain the nature of it. His business affairs, it is learned today, are not in good shape. His life was heavily insured, and most of the policies have been taken out recently. He had just received a policy for ten thousand dollars in the Union Central company, of Cincinnati; five thousand with the New York Mutual; ten thousand with the Manhattan, of New York, and five thousand accident insurance. His father-inlaw, Captain Wood, of New Orleans, also carried a large policy on his life, but the amount of it is not known. Mrs. Wood, his mother-

THE FORTUNE TELLERS CONCERNED. One of the most singular circumsta nected with the whole affair is that Whilden's death has been three times foretold by tellers within a year. Speaking of this today, Mrs. Wood, the mother-in-law, said:

"There is a Creole woman in New Orleans, who has told me a good many things that came out true, and some that did not. About a year ago I went to her out of curiosity, and among other things she told me that I had a married daughter living in Birmingham, and that her husband would meet with a violent death. Two weeks ago yesterday the same fortune teller told me that my daughter would be left a widow, and would die suddenly, and

About the same time Mr. Whilden himself fun, and the man told him that he was going to meet with an accident and that it would causo a "sensation."

IS HE STILL ALIVE? Tonight another sensational feature was added to the case. A lady who lives added to the case. A lady who lives near Whilden's residence returned from New Orleans today, and she asserts positively that she saw the missing man on the street in that city last Saturday evening. This story, however, is believed to be a case of mistaken identity. Whilden's home life was unquestionably pleasant, and no cause can be imagined for him to commit suicide. His wife is a beautiful and accomplished woman, and they have an elegant home on the south highlands in the fashionable residence portion of the city. The condition of his business affairs can't be ascertained tonight with any accuracy. He had consider. dition of his business affairs can't be ascertained tonight with any accuracy. He had considerable property, and was supposed to have plenty of money. His wife also has considerable property here. Inquiry at the banks elicited the information that, so far as known, he was not in debt. His habits were excellent and he stood high in business and social circles.

A NATIVE OF BLACKSHEAR The whole affair is sensational and mysterious. Whilden came here from Blackshear, Georgia, about eight years ago, and made his fortune during the real estate boom. OTHERS WHO HAVE SEEN HIM.

Three men in this city who know Whilden, state positively that they saw him here Sunday night. James O'Keefe, a saloonkeeper, says Whilden was in his saloon and drank a glass Whilden was in his saloon and drank a glass of wine. It is certain that he has not been at his residence since last Thursday morning, and the case grows more and more mysterious. Detectives, insurance agents and reporters are searching the city tonight for some trace of the missing man. His residence is being watched, and if he is here he will be found. The generally accepted theory now is that Whilden is trying to defraud the insurance companies, and that he has lost his fortune in speculation or otherwise.

As near as can be ascertained his insurance polices will probably amount to sixty or seventy-five thousand dollars.

My stomach and digestive organs were in a chronic state of disorder and my liver and bowels so torpid at times that I had to resort to the most drastic catharties, which would always leave me in a delicate position. I suffered from general debility and my whole system became deranged. Sick headaches and violent cramps in my stomach were common, as also frequent skin eruptions, and no woman suffered from the weaknesses of our sex as I did. I was under treatment of severel physicians and also used a much advertised sarsaparilla without the least apparent relief, but instead my health became worse. I reluctantly consented to try Bull's Sarsaparilla. The first dose convinced me it was stronger than any other and I felt a warmth through my whole system, Before I had finished the first bottle. I began to improve. I have only taken five bottles, and now my appetite is splendid, my bowels regular, and my digestion as good as it ever was. My headache and other troubles have ceased and I am better than I have been for ten years.—Ann L. Cooke, Mt. Vernon, Ind.

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION SENT TO ANY ADDRESS. ATLANTA, GA., MARCH 19, 1890.

It is Not Our Fight.

THE CONSTITUTION must not be rung into the fight that the alliance is making against its enemies. President Livingston started it and he is warmly backed by the official organ of the alliance.

THE CONSTITUTION'S part in the controversy was simply to publish a card of President Livingston correcting the false impression sought to be conveyed to the injury of the alliance. We published President Livingston's card, by request, after those for whom it was written had refused to use it. President Livingston's official position is such that his official communications are entitled to publicity.

Any effort to shift the controversy which has arisen to the shoulders of THE CONSTIrution is ridiculously absurd, and any intimation that this paper owns a penny's interest in the Southern Alliance, directly or indirectly, is false, and further, not a dollar's worth of stock in it was ever offered us.

It will be observed that President Livingston's card of complaint and exposure has never been even most remotely referred to by those for whom it was written, but instead, THE CONSTITUTION, Dr. Macime, and the Southern Alliance are jerked into the controversy.

We have nothing to do with it, and we presume that Dr. Macune and the Southern Alliance will take care of themselves.

But, in the meantime, the contest stands between President Livingston and those from whom he has torn the mask.

THE CONSTITUTION has been able to garner considerable information showing how the alliance has been used as a cat's paw in matters pertaining to railroad legislation, of which we will say something at the proper time. It is natural that the kick should come, and we have been looking for it.

President Livingston has had his say, and nas not been answered.

But, excuse us, this is not our fight.

A Useless Experiment.

Some of our northern contemporaries ex press the belief that the negroes will pour into the territory of Oklahoma in such numbers as to give them full control of that region. and that they will organize a state with a negro governor and negro senators.

It is not at all likely that this programme will be carried out. Negroes are not good organizers, and they have never cut any figure in the world's history as pioneers and colonists. But taking it for granted that there is something in this movement, its prospects cannot be said to be very bright. Negroes have had for generations a fair chance to display their capacity for self-government in Hayti and Liberia, but the record they have made is not encouraging. Why repeat a similar experiment in Oklahoma?

This is an immense continent, but there is not a foot of room to spare for a more than coubtful experiment in government. Instead of massing the negroes in one or two states, it would be better for them, and better for the whites, if they were distributed in localities where their labor is needed. A judicious distribution of population will do more than anything else to settle the alleged race problem. Where the blacks are needed to develop the country, it is safe to say that they will be well treated. The two races have shown in the past that they can get along very well together. There is no reason why they should be fenced off from each other in separate states.

Problems of the Great River.

In the great valley of the west the problem of the Mississippi river is more important than any other. It is a vital problem to those who live in the valley, and it is interesting to the whole country. Under these circumstances, it is natural that it should be the subject of newspaper discussion, and quite as natural that the able editors of the land should come forward with various theories which they offer to the public with a confidence that is born of their profession.

One editor is of the opinion that the only solution of the problem is the construction of a vast selve or sifter to catch the silt that forms a large part of the current of the great river. This remedy is necessarily vague. Where is the immense seive to be situated, and who is to shake it up and clean it out? The proposition appears to be visionary. Another editor says that the remedy to allow nature to construct seives of her own in the shape of trees, leaves and grass that once strained the waters of the streams feeding the Mississippi. This seems to be a matter for the forestry congress to consider. It is not at all improbable that the rapidly increasing danger and damage from the spring overflows of the river are due to the fact that great bodies of land in the west and northwest have been denuded of their timber, and, consequently, of the growth and vegetation necessary to strain the waters at flow into the Mississippi.

A great many editors are of the opinion that the attempt to confine the great river to one channel has added to the danger of overflows. Their theory is that the vast volume of water, moving sluggishly through an artificial unnel formed by the levees, deposits silt and gradually raises its bed, and that every year the levees have to be made higher, the danger of serious disaster constantly growing. One of the remedies pro posed is to give the river a new and additional outlet, so as to relieve the pressure of the current along the danger line tion of a tremendous canal, as expensive almost, as the Panama canal. It would have to be a government affair, and a great many miles of fertile land would have to be condemned in order to make the outlet a real safety valve. If it is a remedy at All, it will only be adopted and carried out on the heels of some disaster more terrible than any that has yet occurred.

According to the theorists, this disaster cannot be delayed much longer if the present system is persisted in. And yet the people cannot help themselves. It is levees or nothing. In the days when man had not aid his hand on the current of the river with any serious purpose the vast volume of water was permitted to pursue its own course. The result was that hundreds of thousands of fertile acres of land were overflowed during the spring floods. It was to reclaim these overflowed lands that the levees were built, and now that the levee system has been inaugurated it will have to be carried out until it is proved to be either success or a failure.

Meanwhile the situation is interesting.

The Iron Chancellor. Bismarck may or may not have resigned. The telegrams are conflicting, and the advices of one day may be contradicted on the

To the world at large Germany for many ears has been summed up in this man of blood and iron. For five hundred years the Bismarcks have been a valiant race of fighters and statesmen, but the most famous and ablest of them all is undoubtedly the lionhearted prince whose genius conceived and carried through the splendid scheme of German unity. The power behind the throne during the reign of three emperors has been Bismarck. The sturdy champion of imperial absolutism has been Bismarck. The empire had its emperor, but its daring brain and iron hand were Bismarck's. This remarkable man united his people, and won their hearts by his crowning triumph in the defeat and humiliation of France.

There is little doubt as to the chancellor's dissatisfaction with the methods of his young emperor. After a lifetime spent in camps and courts he is not prepared to accept and indorse the ideas and policy of a rash youth who declares himself in favor of state socialism, and threatens to dash his enemies to pieces. The old statesman is now in favor of peace, a protective tariff to revive the industries of his country, and judicious legislation in the interests of the working classes. But he wants no gigantic labor conference, and no pledges on the part of the government to provide for all the economic wants of labor. He sees only revolution and the destruction of the empire in such a policy, and will not commit himself to it.

Naturally the chancellor and the emperor have differed widely, and it is probable that their differences are irreconcilable. The retirement of the prince, however, would be an act of gravest significance, and needs the strongest confirmation.

Without Bismarck at the helm Germany will lose prestige throughout Europe. There will be discontent at home and hostility abroad. The emperor may talk socialism and flourish his sword at the head of his troops, but he will find that he needs the magic of Bismarck's name to conjure with. However, these speculations may be prema-

No Race Problem for Him.

It is a well known fact that most of the talk about the race problem in the south has very little foundation to rest upon. It is the life of certain sectional newspapers, however, and without it their columns would seem dull to their readers. The newspapers and the cheap lecturers on southern affairs that infest the country, in discussing the condition of the negro in the south have made a problem of their own which bears no likeness whatever to the true state of ffairs here.

Speaking of this "race problem," one of the wealthiest and most respected colored men in the state, as well as one of the best educated, remarked recently that he did not know what it was: that as far as he was concerned, there was no race problem, and had never been. He went on to say that he had been born and reared a s'ave: had always lived in Georgia; hal made every dollar of his money here, and so far from being interfered with in the exercise of any of the rights of a citizen, he had been aided and encouraged by white men everywhere. Those negroes, he said, who were disposed to mind their own business; who turned a deaf ear to the incendiary utterances of political "reformers" and worked industriously for their own welfare and that of the section where they lived, were not bothered with a race problem, and he said that he could point to hundreds of such in his own county.

This, of course, is not news, as such voluntary testimony has been given before by colored men throughout the south: but utterances of this character are always noteworthy, as they are an offset to the lurid misrepresentations to which the south has been subjected whenever the race problem has been discussed.

The law-abiding and industrious negroein Georgia, and throughout the south, are not distressing themselves over the race problem. They are working out their own salvation in the wisest way, and whenever they show a disposition to become good citizens the whites are swift to recognize them as such and to give them a lift along the road. And it may be remarked that some of the best and richest negroes in the south reside in Georgia, and that they are a credit to themselves and to the state.

An Example from the Past. State socialism is making rapid strides, not only in imperial Germany, but in other lands, not excepting our own.

There is nothing new in this policy. It is thousands of years old, and was long ago tried, found wanting, and cast aside. recent article on the subject, Hon. S. G. W. Benjamin calls attention to the example of Sparta, probably the most extreme instance of state socialism in history. Sparta was practically an armed camp. lived for the state, and were the children o the state. They are at common mess-tables, and allowed their business, amusements diet, and even their marriage, to be controlled by the state. The result, says Mr. Benjamin, was that Sparta left no arts, no sciences, no literature; she made no lasting impression in the progress of the race, and when she fel! her citizens were the most selfish and corrupt in Greece. When we have too much legislation when the state becomes everything, and the individual nothing, then men decay. Then people no longer put forth their best work in order to succeed; they sit down quietly and look to the state for a living. Under such conditions, congresses and legislatures grind out new laws every day. They leave nothing untouched, but interfere with business, personal rights, and freedom of action.

Law, like government, is a necessary evil, and the only way to make life endurable is to have as little of it as possible. The most admirable state is the one which makes its rule felt the least by its citizens, leaving men free to do anything that will benefit themselves without injuring their neighbors. We have outgrown the partan era, and the melancholy example of that government should make us all the more determined to stick to the line of policy which has made our nation the freest, happiest and most prosperous under the sun.

It ls Not Journalism.

The sensational story of the kidnap oing of Jay Gould, published in the New York World of last Sunday, was headed off by the enterprise of the Evening Sun, which came out the previous afternoon with a similar varn of its own.

The Sun's story told how Mr. Gould was stolen away from his house and kept in a safe place until a ransom of $3,000,000 was paid for his release. The events in the narrative are supposed to have occurred several months ago. In its later editions the Sun had interviews with Russell Sage and other capitalists on the effect of such an occurrence on the market. Mr. Sage expressed the opinion that it would affect nothing except Gould

The next morning the World came out with the first installment of its widely advertised story. Naturally, it was in a very spiteful humor with everybody, and espe cially with the Sun for getting ahead of it. The World's fiction told how the kidnappers had a steamer constructed for the specia purpose of carrying off Mr. Gould, and in its first chapters described the great millionaire's helpless plight on the vessel in midocean, followed by a fleet of steamers sent out to rescue him from his captors. In a brief preface the World exhibited its temper in the following paragraph:

The story is made up entirely of clippings from the New York dailies of 1892. The discriminating the New York dailies of 1892. The discriminating reader will observe that quite a change during the interval came over the New York journalistic field in the disappearance of some publications of 1890, and the advent of new journals. Among the papers that ceased to exist is a little sheet being apparently without ideas of its own pted an abortive imitation of thi story, infringing the copyright and all journalistic ethics, but unintentionally advertising the genu ne story.

The whole business should be classed with the sensational fakes sometimes indulged in by disreputable newspapers, and both the Evening Sun and the World have injured themselves with sensible people by their erratic course.

At a time when criminals are bold and able enough to steal the bones of dead millionaires, and make it necessary to guard the tombs of our presidents, they are quite capable of kidnapping some of our rich men and it is not in order to map out a plan of campaign for them, even in the guise of fiction. The effect of a story of brilliant and successful crime must be unmitigatedly bad. It is not journalism. It is not legitimate fiction. In old times the writers and publishers of such stuff would be sent to jail, and it is a pity that they cannot be punished now.

The Compound Lard Bill.

Dr. Macune's position on the compound lard bill, as we understand it, is not criminal in its nature. On the contrary, it is characteristic of an enthusiastic man. He believes that cotton seed oil can and ought to stand on its own merits as a food product, and for that reason he believes that the compound lard bill would do no harm to the cotton seed oil industry.

We do not agree with him in this view We believe the bill would work injury in various ways. Its purpose is to legislate in behalf of a parcel of capitalists who desire to run a cheap and wholesome food product out of the market.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

LAST Sunday the Rev. E. D. Fowle, a Unitarian preacher, delivered a sermon in Chattanooga, on Robert G. Ingersoll. Mr. Fowle took the position that the great infidel is an unconscious Christian, and that he is the greatest poet, orator and teacher of truth in this chaotic era of transition. The prediction was made that coming generations will hail Ingersoll as the apostle of a new and matchless rosuel of hone. matchless gospel of hope.

Neither do we find in ancient Greece or Rome ruins of hospitals, blind or insane asylums, or anytning else primarily intended for disinterested benevolence, or for such sort of living as thousands of our population have to endure. Forty years ago there was no need for real poverty in the United States, except in very few cases. All over the rural districts people exhibited self-dental. But States, except in very few cases. All over the rural districts people exhibited self-denial. But with the advance of civilization we have developed new wants. Man could live and be happy in the country in houses with unplastered walls and open fireplaces. Coal, clothing and fuel are indispensible in the city. Most of the things needful for the poor have to be obtained by money in the country you can get whatever you need by barter, but in the city you cannot. This shows may be divided into three classes: Those w will not work, those who cannot work, and the will not work, those who cannot work, and these who would work if they could get it. Those who will not or cannot work must beg, steal or die as for those who want work and can't get it, from my soul I pity them. The reason of their failure is generally that they can do only one thing and that nobody wants done."

WHAT ATLANTA TALKS ABOUT.

The boys about town are talking about the Elks, the order that recently established a lodge here. Few people outside the "mystic circle" seem to know what the order is. I had it explained by an old time member, who said:

The order of Elks was started as a social and benevolent order by a few prominent act was restricted to actors, but it was not long until that restriction was removed and now friends of the profession and good fellows generally are active members. There are probably 150 lodges in the country. Cap. Joyner very frequently has a word out some of the members of the Atlanta police force, and that word isn't a highly complimentary one. If Cap. is any judge-and nobody is in better position to judge than he-a good many of Chief Councily's need to receive instructions as to how to pull fire alarm boxes and how to act a

One of Cap's stories is about a new policeman who, after he had been duly invested with a key, developed an insatiate desire desire to see 'how the durned thing worked." He went to a box in the suburbs, opened the door and began to investigate. When he got through he found he couldn't remove the key. He pulled at it, pounded at it, and finally gave it up as a bad job. The keys, you know, cannot be removed from the boxes except by means of a key which the chief carries.

Cap found the open box and kept the key, awaiting developments. A few days later ar abject specimen of humanity, clothed in the regalia of Atlanta's "finest," was seen hanging about No. 1 engine house. Watching his chance this a. s. of h., called the chief aside. and in a confidential whisper told how his cu riosity had led him to see "how the durned Cap was lenient and didn't report him. He

One of THE CONSTITUTION'S readers, recalling the name Utter, in the story about the old hair trunk, is thrown into a reminiscent mood, and writes:

truth in the story you tell of the "old hair trunk." When I was a little boy, I crossed Alabama and Georgia, from Pickensville, in Alabama, to Madison, Georgia, in a stage coach with Mr. Utter, of Hulsey & Utter, trunk manufacturers, of Newark, New Jersey. Solomon Hydenfelt, now chief justice of Californis was of the passengers, with the wife of Mirabea, B. Lamar, of Texas, and ther father, the famous Methodist bishop of the period.

Mr. Utter was a small, dark skinned man. He said to the bishop that he was a small bit of that "Utter darkness" we read about, and that his firm made all the trunks in the country, except those "toted" by elephants, amusing amusing amusing amusing oted" by unutterably t those " Utter was Mr. Utter was unutterably amusing. He was the first "yankee" the passengers had ever encounted who used the word "tote," and I am curious to learn whether he still lives. There still survives ix of the twelve persons who, in 1843, were his fellow travelers in the "Diffance Line" of stage coaches then running from Montgomery to Madison, Ga. The other line was called "The Opposition." The motto of the former was:
"Sic Transatt Global Mundl."

"SIC TRANSIT GLORIA MUNDI.

"SIC TRANSIT GLORIA MUNDI."

This was printed in gilt letters under the caves of the roof of the each, giltrering coach. The owners of the "Opposition Line," not to be outdone, caused the legend to be changed on their daily coaches and it appeared on one, "sic transit gloria Munday," on another, "sic transit gloria Thesday, and so on for each day in the week.

Utter said when we were dumped down, more dead than alive, at the then railway terminus at Madison, Georgia, that he never before compreshended the wisdom of Providence in making human affairs thus "transitory," and that another day of "sic transit" would have "telescoped" us. T. Addison Richards, then editing the "Orion," the first Literary Monthly ever published in Georgia, joined us at Madison on his way to Penfield. Who has a copy of it?

of the Matters to Be Considered -A Wreck Delays President Polk-Leaders Who Are Here.

The National Alliance convention, which neets today, will settle questions of the utmost mportance to every farmer in the south.

Mr. L. L. Polk, of North Carolina, who wa ted at the St Louis convention president of the Farmers' and Laborers' union, called the meeting, and it is understood that his purpose is to adopt some policy which will secure the abolition of the tax which is now charged m cotton and jute bagging alike.

Every southern state will be represented by either the president of the state alliance or ome one high in the confidence of the order who will represent him.

President Polk, of the Atlanta Alliance exchange, yesterday tendered his board room for the convention and it is probable that it will be held there. No definite answer, could, how-ever, be given yesterday, because the matter had to be referred to President Polk and he had not arrived in the city.

President Polk, with most of the delegate were expected to arrive in the city by the Richmond and Danville train which reaches Atlanta at 9:40, last evening. Owing, how-ever, to the wreck of a freight, the train did not reach the city until early this morning. Some Who Are Here.

The first of the alliance representatives to reach Atlanta was W. S. McAllister, of Mississippi. Mr. McAllister, besides being one of the leaders of the alliance in his state, is an old malist, and has held until recently a position of great trust with the New Orleans nocrat.

President Livingston, of the Georgia Alflance, arrived yesterday morning. He says that today's meeting will be of vital importance to Georgia and the south generally. Hon. R. W. Coleman, of Mississippi, also arrived yesterday morning and is stopping at the Kimball. He is the state alliance lecturer for his state, and is one of the ablest and most inutial mambers of the order.

Mr. W. H. Vason, of Talahassee, will, with Mr. Gleason, represent the state of Florida in the convention. Mr. Vason is originally from Georgia, though he has for many years been located in Florida. He is now the editor of the alliance organ and is making a great sucsess of the paper.

General Stackhouse, president of the South Carolina State Alliance, reached the city yesterday evening, and is at the Markham house General Stackhouse is a man of wide and varied experience. He bears the reputation of being one of the coolest-headed and ablest counsellors in the order, and his influence will be observable in the convention.

Mr. S. D. A. Duncan will represent Texas where he is the vice-president of the Alliance commercial agency. Last year an alliance ex-change was started in Texas, and when it failed, Mr. Duncan, feeling the need of such institution, raised the necessary lished the commercial agency which is now doing a large and profitable business. Mr Duncan said last night that the tare question was a most important one and he felt confident that the matter would be satisfactorily arranged. That the Liverpool cotton exchange should continue to disregard the wishes of the entire United States he deemed improbable, and he also stated that the English manufacturers needed the cotton just as much as the planters needed to sell it, and he therefore felt easy as to the result of the negotiations.

GIVING AWAY SPACE.

It May Be Found Necessary to Increase the Capacity of the Exposition Buildings. The space for exhibitors is rapidly being assigned by Secretary Arnold, of the Piedmont Exposition company.

On figuring up his applications Mr. Arnold found, yesterday, that he has already given nway 32,000 square feet of space. There is, however, no fear of the space giving out, because if it is found necessary Agricultural hall will be joined to the main building by a temporary structure, which will accommodate a large number of exhibits. In order to secure the class of exhibits which are desired, Secretary Arnold has issued the following Secretary Arnold has issued the following

MISSISSIPPI'S SUCCESSFUL ENTER-PRISE STILL GROWING.

A Brilliant Future for the Factory Which Was Established to Supply the De-mand for Cotton Bagging.

The Mississippi alliance men have an insti-ution of which they may well be proud. It is the Alliance Manufacturing company, which is situated at Canton.

It was with almost endless work and after tremendous difficulties had been overcome that the factory was built, now, however, that is in working order, those who bore the ourden of its establishment are reaping their reward, and the alliances throughout the south are sharing in the benefits.

The grounds, which comprise thirty acres of land, are situated in the suburbs of Canton and are immediately on the main line of the Queen and Cresent railroad. Altogether the plant is worth more than $50,000.

The main building is 200 feet in length, is 90 feet wide and is two stories high. Both the lower rooms are 150 feet long, the lower one being 90 feet wide and the upper one 50 feet. The engine is one of the best pieces of machinery in the south. It is a 240 Corliss power engine, perfect in every respect.

It was the purpose of the company to have $100,000 paid up stock. Atlanta, New Orleans, Memphis, Birmingham and other southern cities are taking the stock as fast as it can be put on the market, and the required sum will oon be in the treasury of the company.

The outlook of enterprise is at present very bright, and the quality of the cotton bagging which the company produces is excellent, and during the coming year when the entire crop will be wrapped in cotton it will doubtless be pushed to its utmost capacity to supply the de-

A NEW SCHEDULE

On the West End Line-Other Improve in the Street Car Service

A seven-and-a-half minute schedule was put on the Whitehall street horse car line vester

This is a step toward rapid transit, and the citizens along that line and of West End will doubtless feel grateful for the improvement. Eight cars leave the corner of Whitehall and Alabama street to the hour, according to the new schedule-on the hour, between and on each quarter.

But this is not all. Superintendent Patterson, who, by the way, is one of the best street railway men in the country, said yesterday that as soon as the cars could be had and the turnouts put down, two more cars would be put on, with a five-minute schedule. Another great improvement that will be appreciated by the street-car-travelling public, will also be made as soon as the city council grants the permission to lay the tracks. This is the connecting of the Peachtree and Whitehall lines, by way of Marietta, Broad and Alacama streets, and the running of cars through from north Atlanta to south Atlanta. e fare. The same thing will be done to the Maretta and Decatur street lines.

At a glance, the convenience and importance of this improvement will be seen. It will undoubtedly increase travel on the line greatly, as those living in north Atlanta can go through to Whitehall street, without change.

The Atlanta Street Railway company has nade many improvements in the service since it took hold of and consolidated all the horse ar lines of the city.
"In a short while," said Mr. Patterson yesterday, "we will not have any mules in our service. We are getting rid of them now just as fast as we can, and are substituting first-class horses for them. Of course you understand what that means.

The electric mule must go.

Just who will be Mr. Haas's successor is not yet determined upon, but it is more than probable that the position will be tendered to Superintendent Patterson, as he has been prominently mentioned in connection with it.

Prisoner.

Cicero Walker, a countryman, got drunk and raised Cain on Peachtree street yesterday.

Mounted Officer Phillips arrested him, and Walker resisted. A terrible fight ensued, and for a time it was hard to tell who had the best of the fight. Walker got hold of Policeman Phillips' nistol and attempted to man Phillips' pistol and attempted to use it. Phillips wrested it from use it. Phillips wrested it from his hands, and used it with effect over Walker's head: After a hard fight Walker succumbed, and was carried to the stationhouse. Dr. Van Goidtsnoven was summoned, and dressed the prisoner's wounds. None of them were serious, but he was pretty badly used up in the struggle.

Walker lives in the country, and is a pretty tough character when under the influence of quilor.

It Was the Edgewood Line.—An item appeared in Sunday's Constitution concerning the injuries sustained by Mr. William Ellison, by being struck by an electric car. By mistake, the Fulton county electric railway line was given credit for the accident, when, in fact, it was the Edgewood line. Mr. Ellison is recovering, and will soon be well. The Fulton county line has been remarkably free from accidents during the short time that its various lines have been in operation.

AN ATTORNEY MAKES HIS DEBUT IN THE CITY COURT.

He Wins His Case and a $500 Fee-A Tele graph Company Sued—The Tolleson Ca to Come Up in the Supreme Court.

An interesting case was tried before Judge Van Epps yesterday.
At least it was interesting to Mr. J. L. Key,

the attorney who appeared for the prosecution.

The case was that of Sigmund against the Atlanta Street Railway company for damages. Or rather the suit was for the recovery of attorney's fees. It appeared that sometime age Mrs. Sigmund, the plaintiff, was injured in some way through the street railway company. She employed Mr. Key to represent her in a suit for damages, but subsequently compromised with the street car company for fifty dollars.

The compromise left the lawyer out in the cold, so far as his bill was con-cerned, and the case called yesterday was to compel the defendant company to pay him a just fee, on the ground that a settlement by them with Mrs. Sigmund without consulting him after his employment by her, was wrong and inequitable.

But the interesting feature of the case wa in the fact that it was the first suit Mr. Key had ever had in the city court, or any other court higher than a justice court, He mentioned this fact to the jury, and it probably had its effect, for a verdict of $500 was returned in his favor. Withal, a pretty mug fee, and that the first fee he ever earned in a county court.

The Western Union Telegraph company was sued yesterday for failure to deliver message. One hundred dollars is the penalty for such neglect of duty by a telegraph company, and in this instance that is the amount sought to be recovered. Charles Matthews brings the suit. He avers in his bill that on January 7 last, a telegram was sent him by Nelson & Raine, of Memphis the message being prepaid by the senders. Mr. Matthews sets forth that he had been to the telegraph office, and expecting to receive such message had left his address, but that notwithstanding this, and also the fact that he lived within a mile of the office, the message was never delivered, as it should have been. The company appealed from the appraisers' valuation, carrying the case into the courts.

Yesterday the jury rendered a verdict sus taining the appraisers, allowing Dr. Todd $1,800 for the right-of-way as occupied by the Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supphysician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have pever been without this medicine. Sometime ago it was announced at the Rich mond and Dauville and Georgia Pacific offices that the train was to be put on—a train from Washington to reach here about 7 a. m., making close connection with a train to Birmingham. The matter hasn't materialized yet and nothing definite can be said of it-except that

Projected Roads.

There seems to be something in the talk about an early extension of the Georgia Midland and Gulf from McDonough to Athens. The road is now completed from Columbus to McDonough, Ga., ninety-seven miles, and the extension to Athens would be about ninetyeight miles.

Work will be begun in a few days on the Georgia Southern and Florida line from Tifton to Thomasville, fifty-five miles. Work is to begin at once on the extension of the Darien Short Line north to Walthourville, Ga. The road is now completed from Darien north eleven miles, leaving thirty-one miles of line to be constructed. R. K. Walker, of Darien, Ga., is president.

A press dispatch states that the prospect is good for the early completion of the Griffin, Monticello and Madison. About twenty-five miles of the line was graded some time ago, nd the work abandoned. The road will run from a point on the Covington and Macon railroad via Madison to Griffin, Ga.

Covington, Ga., has a fair prospect of secur ing the Middle Georgia and Atlantic. The Covington Star says: "The conditions upon which Covington can get the Middle Ge and Atlantic railroad, are so liberal and easy we ought to respond to them without a mo nent's hesitation. We cannot afford to let the road be built through our territory without coming to Covington. If we do, our city will be damaged many times more than what it will cost us to get the road. If we get the road here, it will infuse new life into our peo ple, and will give us an impetus on our upward march, that will make our town a bust ling and thrifty and prosperous little city of many thounsand inhabitants."

"The next thing to look out for," remarked a railroad man yesterday, "at least so far as the Atlanta and Florida is concerned, is an alliance with the Georgia, Carolina and North

At the Women's Christian Home, on Peters street, there was a most touching scene yesterday, when the emaciated form of Lee Lumpkin, three years old, was placed by loving hands in the little casket and borne to its last resting place. It was a touching scene—twenty little ones as they gathered around and sang the favorite songs of their little companion—songs in which his feeble voice had so often mingled with theirs.

A WITNESS SURPRISED. He is Arrested For Perjury Just as He Leaves the Stand.

Here's a queer case. A moonshiner swore one thing in Gainesville. He swore positively to the contrary be fore Judge Newman yesterday.

He was arrested for perjury. It is very doubtful now if he can be con-victed, because the charge must specify in which instance he perjured himself, and the prosecuting attorney is in a dilemma.

Did he perjure himself there or here? If the question cannot be decided the case

The moonshiner's name is John Gilbert, of Habersham. He was a witness for the government in the case of James Busha. Busha was committed before Judge Gaston, at Gainesville, Gilbert was a material witness. In the courtroom he identified Busha as a man he had seen violating the revenue law. Witnesses for the government are paid a mileage for the distance traveled, and also a per diem of $1.50.

Yesterday when Gilbert was put upon the stand by District Attorney Darnell he denied that Busha was the man he had seen, saying that the man was smaller, and younger than the prisoner.

"What you said in Gainesville was false then, was it?" asked Judge Newman, quickly. "Yes, sir."

"Arrest that man for perjury," said the Gilbert was dumbfounded.

Busha was found not guilty, as it was impos-sible to convict him without Gilbert's testimony.

Gilbert was taken before Commissioner

Haight, Assistant District Attorney Angier rosecuting. The warrant, as drawn, charged Gilbert with perjury in Judge Newman's court. It was found impossible to convict him on that charge, at least without Judge Gaston as a witness, so the case was continued until this morning, in order to have the com-missioner from Gainesville here.

In event Gilbert is acquitted on the charge of perjury in Atlanta, a warrant will be ready for his immediate arrest on the charge of perjury at Gainesville.

It seems to be a very doubtful matter, though, if he can be convicted on either charge. somewhere, but where?

Mother of a Fine Boy. Three months before my babe was born, I was advised to use "Mother's Friend." I procured a bottle, which relieved me so much that I continued its use. My physician and nurse say mine was the most remarkable case they ever witnessed. At 10 o'clock I was in the parlor playing on the plane, feeling per-fectly well, and by 2 o'clock the mother of a fine boy. My recovery was rapid. I used "Mother's Friend" on my breasts, as directed, and had no trouble with them whatever.

YOUR OWN LIFE,

May Be Saved if You Will Think of Yourself a Moment and Then Act.

Ulceration of the bowels, usually called "itching piles," is a very common affliction, and not causing much pain is usually considered of small importance, and the disease is allowed to develop into a very grave affliction. The symptoms of this trouble are moisture and itching around the constant of t this trouble are moisture and itening around the anus, pain across the hips (low down), diarrheas, and irregular howels, pain in lower part of same, indigestion, and a long train of nervous symptoms, differing in nearly every case); and in the female, who are more liable to be affected than toms, differing in nearly every case); and in the female, who are more liable to be affected than the male, many symptoms usually attributed to remale diseases. This disease is a very fruitful cause of many diseases refusing to yield to the treatment of your Physician, and places you on the list of "incurables." The results of neglecting this affliction are terrible to contemplate, a general impairment of health, frequently so slow as to be scarcely noticeable, derangement of the nervous system, unfitting you for business of enjoyment of pleasure, the development of cancer and stricture of bowels, or loss of power of controlling same when happily death intervenes and relieves the sufferer of histortures. This is a terrible picture, but a true one. You may by neglect make this your own; can you take the risk when a cure is offered you? Treating rectal diseases exclusively for a number of years, I am able to offer you a cure without the usual pain attending the treatment employed by one who has not the experience in treating these diseases. The mode of treatment is employ for their cure is mild and is not unpleasant in anyway, as I use neither knife or caustic applications. I have cured many, and I am willing that they should tell you of my success if you wish it. I can furnish you their names if you prefer it. On my past success I am willing to stand or fall. Dr. King's Royal Germetuer is founded upon the fact as promulgated by Professors Sedielat, Pasteur, Koch, Brandtlett, of Germany; Miquel, of France; Geoffray, the eminent Swede; De Geer and Bomet, of Geneva; the French academy of sciency and other illustrious authorities, that "Disease germs (of which there are one hundred and sixty-five distinct species) may be not only attenuated until nearly harmless, but may be re-viviled by degrees and given the most virulent character." Dr. McLahon says: "The contaglous germs which lays low the physician, is just as particular as the bullet which kills cian, is just as particular as the bullet which kills a soldier." Professor Tyndal says: "Disease germs are found floating in the air, destroying man as well as beasts and vegetation." "Few people," says Professor Sedielat, "would believe that there is no man, woman or child, animal or vegetable, that is not more or less impregnated with these deadly germs." They often multiply with alarming rapidity—often by thousands every few minutes. These cause disease, which Royal Germetuer destroys, and at the same time it is a fine tonic for the weak and feeble. Germetuer removes the cause of the disease, and nature repairs the damage.

fine tonic for the weak and feeble. Germetuer removes the cause of the disease, and nature repairs the damage.

It is a positive cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, indigestion, palpitation, headache, liver, bladder and kidney troubles, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, incipient consumption, all blood and skin diseases, nervouness, insomnia, bowel troubles, debility, female diseases and irregularities, cancers and tumers, gastritis, etc. It builds up from the first dose, the patient quickly feeling its soothing, strengthening and health-giving influence. It makes no errors in diagnosis, and does not produce one disease while curing another. It is as palatable as lemonade, and cures when all else fails.

Thousands of certificates attest its virtues, and place it in advance and in front of all remedies now before the public. It is no experiment to take Dr. King's Royal Germetuer. It is a boon to women, and never fails to cure many of the diseases with which they as afflicted.

Price reduced from $2.50 to cure many of the diseases with which they as afflicted.

Price reduced from $2.50 to S1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per accompanying directions. Manufactured and for sale by the Atlantic Germetuer Company, 14 North Broad street, Atlanta, Ga., and by druggists.

Collins and Part Will Take It or Let Atlanta Have It-The People to Vote On the Matter.

The old capitol was sold at auction yester-day to Mr. Joel Hurt, who accompanied his bid with the statement that if the city wanted the building it could have it at his bid. With him are associated Mr. J. D. Collins and Mr.

The matter will come up before the council at 10 o'clock this morning on the ordinance to be submitted by request of the aldermanic board, which considered the matter yesterday afternoon. The ordinance provides for the submission of the question to the people on April 23. The passage of the orpinance today appears to be a foregone conclusion. The councilmen, at Monday's meeting, voted seven to four to bid on the capitol at the auction, but the matter was defeated then by a majority against it in the aldermanic board. That was because the city attorney had said the city could not go in debt for anything beyond the current year's expenses without submitting the matter to the people and having it sanctioned by two-thirds of the qualified voters.

The Sale of the Building

By eleven o'clock there was a large crowd in front of the old capitol. At that time a onehorse dray, drawn by a mild-mannered mule. appreached the building. On it was a darky with a red flag and a big bell. When he moved up and down the sidewalk ringing the bell, the crowd thickened rapidly and jammed that side of the street.

The crowd was largely composed of wealthy and influential citizens. Mr. W. D. Grant smoked a cigar quietly, Governor Bullock stood by a big telegraph pole talking to a circle of friends, every now and then looking up affectionately at the big red building where he used to hold forth in days gone by.

talking to Mr. William Dickson, Mr. James R. Wylie was a little way off, and Mr. Jonathan Norcross joined the crowd about Gover-nor Bullock. Colonel D. N. Speer was near by. The crowd had to wait some time, and amused itself guessing what the capitol would

"It would be cheap at $200,000," said Governor Bullock. Mr. James R. Gray guessed $147,500, and Mr. Phil Haralson $134,000. Mr. Humphreys Castleman said it would bring $190,000, and Mr. DeSaussure $150,000.

Other gentlemen guessed as follows: Charles Kingsberry, $150,000; W. J. Speer, $150,000; Mr. Osborn, the real estate man, $160,000; Mr. Jonathan Norcross, who has been here since the early forties, $150,000; Mr. James R. Wylie, $135,000; McLendon, $150,000; L. De-Give, $140,000 to $150,000; J. A. Alexander, $135,000; E. B. Woodward $150,000; Bob Collins, $140,000; C. F. Rice, $150,000; Captain Joyner, $135,000; William Markham, $130,000; John W. Alexander, $140,000; D. Speer, $125,000 to $130,000, unless somebody wants it specially; Clem Harris, $139,000; Hugh Angier, $150,500 and C. W. Hunnicutt, $159,000.

After some delay Dr. H. L. Wilson, the auctioneer, and Judge J. T. Nisbet, the governor's secretary, moved down to the Forsyth street entrance and stood talking by the little wagon and the red flag.

Instantly there was a rush to that side, and the crowd rallied thickly around the red flag.

"Gentlemen," said Dr. Wilson, "Judge Nisbet and I have just come round here for a private conversation. The sale will take place in front of the building, on Marietta street." At this moment there were about three hundred people peering over the shoulders of the Judge Nisbet looked up from his documents with an air of reproach and the crowd fell back in a tumult of laughter.

The little mule was moved up in front of the building on the Marietta street side and Mr. James R. Gray anchored himself securely in front of the animal, holding the bridle with one hand and patting the docile animal lovingly on the shoulder with the other. The crowd by this time was immense, and when Dr. Wilson mounted the dray and began to open his preliminary oration he was sur-rounded by hundreds of interested faces.

He began by reading a statement from the governor of the terms on which the state held an easement upon certain property in the rear of the building. The terms, half cash, and the balance in one and two years at eight per

He also stated, after consultation with Judge Nisbet, that the matter would have to be closed up by paying half the amount bid within ten days, A forfeit of $5,000 would have to be put up by certified check within banking hours.

Dr. Wilson then talked a few minutes or the effect upon this property of the removal of the Union depot to the foot of Hunter street, and the entrance of the Georgia, Carolina and Northern and the Marietta and North Georgia railroads. He declared the property was worth $1,000 a front foot, without the building.

Then the sale began. "Who will start it at $125,000?" said Dr.

Mr. James D. Collins mounted the wagon and said:

"Gentemen: I want to make a statement, and I will get up here where you can hear me I expect to bid on this property and I will start It at $125,000. I understand this matter came up before the city council, and I think the city ought to have it for offices. If this property is knocked down to me, I will take it, although I would like for the city to have it. I am satisfied the people, when it is voted on, will vote to buy the building for the city offices. It was only defeated. I understand, by one vote in the aldermanic board. Whatever my bid is, I obligate myself to let the city of Atlanta have it at any time at that price. I want it distinctly understood that I am not compensated in any, shape or form. If there is any gentleman who will obligate himself to do that I will not bid against him. If the city of Atlanta don't take the property I will take it myself. I start it at $125,000. This statement was greeted with applause. "I am as much in love with Atlanta as any man," said the auctioneer, quickly, "but I am also in love with the state.

My friends from Chicago and New York want a chance at this property, and the man who pays the most money takes the building. Don't be afraid to shoot your mouth off gentlemen. I am offered $125,000 for a building that cost $430,000 when it was built.

"One hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars I have, who'll give me thirty? "A hundred and twenty-five—make it thirty; who'll give me thirty?"

Here Mr. Hurt made a statement. "I want to say I will renew Mr. Collin's proposition, and for the privilege of standing in his shoes I'll give $500. I'll make it $500 "A hundred and twenty-five thousand five hundred," cried the auctioneer, "who'll give me thirty? Make it thirty, make it thirty;

AT THE CITY'S OPTION. city's bid," said Mr. Hurt; "I propose to reduce my bid. I make it $125,010."

"I can't cry so small a bid on so big a turn," raid the syntians of the syntans of the syntan said the auctioneer. "Do you want to with-draw your bid?"

Then he went on crying, $125,500.
"Take your bid off" said Mr. Collins laughing.

"No, sir," said Mr. Hurt.

Then Mr. Collins went over to Mr. Hurt's side of the wagon and held a consultation. Meantime the auctioneer continued the cry for the sale but he got no more bids. There were a number of gentlemen there able to bid but no one seemed disposed to bid against the city. So after some time the building was knocked down to Mr. Hurt at $125,500.

The crowd then pressed round Mr. Hart. Mr. M. C. Kiser and Mr. Collins were with him and Mr. Sam Venable was near Mr. Collins.

The three gentlemen immediately came to an understanding in the presence of the crowd.

"If the city wants it, it can have it," said one of them, "and if it don't want it we divide it equally." The others assented and the crowd began to disperse. As the parties interested moved off Mr. Venable said: "Put up the forfeit and give the city plenty of time.

The Aldermanic Board Takes Action.

Alderman Howell, who had attended the sale, went to the mayor's office soon after, and Mayor Glenn issued a call for a meeting of the aldermanic beard at 3:30 o'clock.

At that hour there was a full board present, with Alderman Hutchison in the chair. Mayor Glenn stated the occasion of the call and started to retire, but he was asked to remain, started to retire, but he was asked to remain, Mr. Haas remarking that he wanted an open session. Councilmen McLendon, Meador, Hendrix, Colonel W. S. Thomson, Mr. L. B. Nelson, the comptroller, clerk and assistant clerk, Governor Bullock, and a representative of The Constitution were

The matter was opened by a reconsideration of the adverse action of the day before on the esolution to bid on the capitol.

Mr. Haas said he had not changed since ye terday and asked that the city attorney and ssistant be sent for. This was done and those gentlemen soon came in.

Mr. Howell said this was the best opportunity Atlanta would ever have to get a city ing the purchase of the capitol at the bid of

Mr. Haas objected on the ground that the city could not go in debt without the sanction of two-thirds of the qualified voters of the

The city attorney sustained this view and said that could be done after thirty-five days advertising.

Mr. Howell offered a resolution to the effect that it was the sense of the aldermanic board that the city should buy the old capitol at the price o the bid.

Mr. Woodward objected, that the resolution was indofinite and illegal. He said he was opposed to selling the fire engine house and hook and ladder house and moving everything over on the other side. Nine-tenths of the vehicles crossed the Broad street bridge, and that would be bad in case of a fire on this side (south side.) This side had two-thirds the area of the city. He offered an amendment providing that the two fire buildings be not sold, the fire department not consolidated, and that the purchase can be done legally.

Mr. Howell objected to the amendment. While this discussion was going on Mr. Haas was writing, and he offered as a substitute the following resolutions, saying he was willing to let the people say what they want:

Mr. Haas's Substitute.

Resolved, That the mayor be requested to convene the general council, and submit to them an ordinance ordering an election to be held April 23d, 1890, upon the question of purchasing the old capitol building from Mr. Joel Hurt and others for $125,500. Mr. Haas's Substitute.

r $125,500. "Will these gentlemen who bid off the property remain in the city until after the election?" asked some one.

"Yes, they will," said Mr. Howell. "I told Mr. Collins to bid on the property with the understanding that if the city wanted the tuilding he would let them have it and if not he would take it and he said all right. I told him my object in that was to give the city a chance to vote and he said that was all right.

I said the same thing to Mr. Hurt and he agreed to it. Mr. Mr. Hurt and he agreed to it. Mr. Kiser said that if they put up the $5,000 forfeit the city should pay them the interest on it while it was out. I said that was all right, but Mr. Sam Venable said that if the city needed $5,000 to put up the forfeit, he would furnish the money without a cent of interest.

After this statement the resolution was unanimously adopted.

The board then adjourned and the mayor announced that he would call the council together at ten clock this morning.

The Bidders Interviewed. Mr. Hurt was seen soon after the adjourn-ment of the aldermanic board and shown the resolution.

"What will be your attitude in the matter if the council adopts the ordinance?" he was asked.

the council adopts the ordinance?" he was asked.

"We propose to give the city every chance. If we have to pay the $63,000, I don't know how it will be."

"Suppose the governor will agree to wait on the city the thirty-five days pending the elec-

"If he does that, I do not now see any difficulty."
"In other words, you propose to carry out in good faith what you stated when you made the bid."

"Certainly." "Certainly."

Mr. Kiser was also shown the resolution and asked his attitude in the matter.

"That's all right," said he, "we are not anxious for them to take it, but the city can have the building if it wants it. Hurt and I are willing, and Collins is, too."

Inquiry was made for Mr. Collins at his office, but he had gone to his home in the

THE APPELATION THE FLORENCE DIRECTORS USE OF WOODS WHITE.

They Send a Letter to Stockholder Which They Refer to the Suit He Brings Against Them.

The directors of the Florence Railroad and Improvement company have a word to say about Mr. Woods White.

Mr. White, as was first announced in THE Constitution a few days ago, began a suit against the Florence company and J. H. Field, general manager of the company. In the papers, some severe charges were made against the management of the company. Now the directors come to the front with a reply. It is in the shape of a letter to the stockholders, and reads as follows:

the stockholders, and reads as follows:

It having come to the knowledge of the directors of the Florence Railroad and Improvement company, that a suit has been instituted in the United States court, against said company, J. H. Field, general manager, and others, praying for the appointment of a receiver.

Therefore, we, a quorum of the body of directors, assembled in the city of Florence, deem it proper to notify the stockholders in our company, that we have employed able counsel and taken all other necessary steps to protect their interests, and to thwart the purposes of the complainant, other necessary steps to protect their interests, and to thwart the purposes of the complainant, W. Woods White, cailing himself a "promoter," and incited wholly by seifish instincts, to benefit himself at the expense of honest stockholders, who, in good faith, invested their money in the stock of this company, and are therefore entitled to all the protection that the law, properly construed, will afford them against the rapacity of those who are now invoking the law and the interposition of a federal court for the recognition of claims that they cannot establish because not grounded in truth or equity.

We furthermore beg to assure our stockholders that the affairs of the company are being managed that the affairs of the company are being manage judiciously, with the strictest integrity, and a su-preme regard to the ultimate good of all the stock-holders. Therefore, we have no fear that W. holders. Therefore, we have no fear that W. Woods White, a pretended promoter,—who was not one of the original number, and has done nothing for the company to establish his claim to nothing for the company to establish his claim to be a promoter,—will be able to maintain his action, in derogation of the rights and interests of stockholders who bought and paid for their holdings.

A Broken Arm.

Ed. O. Archer, a youth employed in the office of the Evening Journal, was the victim of a severe accident yesterday.

He is employed in the mailing rooms, and getting into a playful scuffle with several other boys, he attempted to run up a step-ladder and slipped, breaking his left arm. Physicians dressed his wounds, and sent him to his home on Tattnall street, but it will be sometime before he recovers.

THE OKEFENOKEE SOLD.

GENERAL P. M. B. YOUNG'S SYNDI-CATE WINS.

Engineer Johnson States That the Swamp Can Be Drained and Every Investor Will Become a Millionaire.

The Okefenokee swamp is at last disposed iseless property:

Governor Gordon met the gentlemen interested in the disposal of the swamp in his reception room yesterday morning, and promptly at 10 o'clock he commenced opening the packages which contained the bids. There were five of these envelops, although there were only four bids. One of the envelops had been sent in by Mr. Willis Reagan, and when it was opened it was found to contain simply a statement that Mr. Reagan and his associates had concluded to withdraw from the contain from the contest. It was found that the highest bid was 26\ cents an acre and was made by a syndicate composed of Messrs. Frank Coxe, of North Carolina; P. M. B. Young, of Georgia; Marshall A. Phil-lips, of Pennsylvania; H.S. Little, of New Jersey; and Henry Jackson, of Atlanta. The Governor's Order. After all the bids had been read, Governor Gordon issued the following order:

Whereas, The governor of the state of Georgia did advertise for bids for the lands in the state of Georgia, in and adjoining the Okefenokee swamp, in accordance with the provisions of an act of the general assembly of said state, approved October 29th, 1889, and the time for such bids close this day at 10 o'clock a. m.: and. Whereas, This day at 10 o'clock a. m. all bids received before that hour were publicly opened by the executive and found to be as follows: 1. Bid of Frank Coxe. P. M. B. Young and Henry per acre.

2. Bid of Frank Coxe, P. M. B. Young and Henry tenth cents per acre.
3. Bid of Frank Coxe, Marshall A. Phillips, H. S.

Little, P. M. B. Young and Henry Jackson, of date March 18th, 1890, twenty-six and a half cents 4. Bid of Jas, L. White, of date March 18th, 1890;

twenty-five and one-fourth cents per acre.
Therefore; I, John B. Gordon, governor of the state of Georgia, do declare the same Frank Coxe, Marshall A. Phillips, H. S. Little, P. M. B. Young and Henry Jackson to be the highest bidders fo the lands of the state of Georgia, in and adjoining the Okefenokee swamp; that the said persons are incorporated under the provisions of the act of the general assembly, approved October 20th, 1889, as the Suwanee Canal company, with all the rights and privileges by said act conferred, and I do hereby order that the above and foregoing be entered upon the minutes of the executive department, and a copy of the same be furnished to the said "The Suwanee Canal company."

"The Suwanee Canal company."
Given under my hand and the seal of the executive department, at the capitol, in the city of Atlanta, this the 18th day of March, A. D., 1890.
By the Governor: John B. Gordon.

tive department, at the capitol, in the city of Atlanta, this the 18th day of March, A. D., 1890. By the Governor:

John B. Gordon.

While the governor was opening the bids in his reception room, Mr. James C. Johnson, the civil engineer, was preparing a map of the swamp in the secretary of state's office.

Of all the gentlemen who claim to have some knowledge of the Okefenokee swamp, Mr. Johnson is doubtless the best informed, and the bid made by the successful syndicate was attributable, in a great measure, to the information which he furnished.

During the year 1888, Mr. Johnson spent a large part of the winter and spring surveying the swamp, and he has made a study of all the streams and rivers which have their source in the almost impenetrable wilderness. "Every man," said Mr. Johnson, "who has any money invested in this swamp will be worth millions. I am now copying the map which was made by The Constitution's surveyors, and was presented to the state. It is by far the best map of the swamp now in existence, and it gives a very good idea of the lay of the land.

"By giving the outline of the way the swamp runs into Charlton, Ware and Clynch counties it is easy to tell that the acreage of the swamp proper is 250,000. Besides this, however, there is a great quantity of land which will go to the purchasers. Some of it was sold and some of it was squatted on by settlers, but almost all of it has reverted back to the state."

"The timber alone is worth much more than state of the swamp consist?"

"The timber alone is worth much more than was paid for the property. It is the finest I ever saw in my life, and then the land is immensely rich. I don't speak without knowledge, because I have carefully examined it and I know that below the six feet of muck and decaying vegetation there is a firm, rich earth which will grow anything in the world."
"Will the swamp be hard to drain?"
"It will be an easy task to drain the whole examp that is, it would be so for me because "It will be an easy task to drain the whole swamp, that is, it would be so for me, because I made a special study of the rivers with a view of draining the swamp. I am, therefore, willing to stake my professional reputation that the water can be started for $10,000 and the swamp can be drained for $250,000."

The law requires that the purchasers of the swamp should at once make a thorough survey of it and this work will be compressed of

of it, and this work will be commenced at once.

It remains with Governor Gordon to select a chief engineer, and he will choose this party.

General P. M. B. Young stated yesterday that the survey would be in the field before the expiration of ten days.

The Women! God Bless Them! The Women! God Bless Them!
What would the world be without women?
Our mothers, our sisters and our wives—what would there be without them in life worth living? And yet whom do we neglect so cruelly? Our horses and our cattle are carefully sheltered and fed, and their first symptoms of ailing given quick attention. But our best friends among the gentler sex grow thin and pale before our very eyes, and because they do not complain we fail to notice it.
Oh! let the mist fail from our eyes and let us realize how weak and fragile is woman, and Oh! let the mist fail from our eyes and let us realize how weak and fragile is woman, and how zealous we should be in their behalfwhen it comes to a question of health. Let us remomber that for thie, pale, wan looking women Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla is just their need. It will make their checks rosy and they will grow in strength and flesh.—Gainesville Advocate.

AND HIS FAMILY HAS HEARD NOTH-ING FROM HIM SINCE.

The Suspicious Circumstances Surrounding the Disappearance of a Nashville Man— Detectives Investigating the Case.

NASHVILLE, Tentr., March 18. - [Special.]-Some startling developments involving foul play in connection with the mysterious disaprance of a man named James Burton, who lived on Jackson street, near the Phillips & Butterff foundry are coming to light. The missing man has a wife and eight children, one of whom, a little boy, has been born since he disappeared, January 21st. Upon that date he sold a mule for $40, his brother-in-law, E. W. Griffin, a blacksmith, being with him at the time. He parted from Griffin on Market street about dusk that evening and Market street about dusk that evening and neither said nor intimated anything about going away. This was the last seen of him by any of his relatives, who have since heard nothing from him.

James Sharp, a laborer living on Fillmore street, and John Smith, who lives on Line street, have drawn suspicion upon themselves by their words and actions and the knowledge which they have professed concerning Burton. They have inade the statement that Burton on January 21st passed the night at Sharp's house, as did also John Smith. Sharp is a married man, while Smith is unmarried.

According to the story told by them, Burton declined to go to bed and sat up all night with the intention of taking the early morning train with the purpose of going to Dallas, Texas. The fare to Texas is $16.55 but Smith told

The fare to Texas is $10.55 but Smith told some parties that Burton paid $28 for his ticket. To a relative of the missing man, Sharp has since claimed to have received a letter from Button asking about his family, and about the little child whose arrival was hourly expected when he went away.

Smith, it is said, claimed to have seen and read the letter, but no one else has been allowed to see this letter, though Griffin and others asked to see it. Mr. Griffin says that Sharp now denies having read it, too. Communication has been had with the authorities in Dallas, who failed to learn anything of such a man as Burton. of such a man as Burton. DETECTIVES AT WORK.

Owing to these suspicious circumstances the matter has been placed in the hands of Chief Clark, and the detectives are now engaged in investigating. From all that can be learned it seems to be certain that Barton could not have had over $40 upon his person, and it is hardly reasonable to suppose that he would have left without realizing upon other property which he armed

THE BLACK HAND

Which Lead to a Shocking Discovery in Pile of Cotton Seed Hulls.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 18.—]Special.]— Early this morning J. A. Soloman, night watchman at the Oliver oil mills, in the northern section of the city, was digging into a great pile of cotton seed hulls that was heaped on he floor of the boller room. He was shoveling hulls for the furnace fires, and was getting well into the center of the pile, when he par-tially uncovered an object, which he thought was an old tow sack. He caught at the supwas an old tow sack. He caught at the supposed sack, and gave it a jerk, when he wus horrified to find in his grasp the decomposed hand of a negro boy. He carefully removed the hulls and then found the body of a negro boy, evidently about twelve years of age, in the middle of the heap. The body was in an advanced state of decomposition. Mr. Solomon recognized the body as that of a negro boy named Arthur Davis, who was at the oil mills on Sunday, March 9. That day Mr. Solomon found that the boy had burrowed a hole in the pile of seed hulls, as the negro boys of that vicinity had been in the habit of doing. Mr. Solomon drove the boy away, and the supposition is that while the boy away, and the supposition is that while the watchman's back was turned the boy came back and got into the hole. The pile of hulls caved in on him and smothered him to death. caved in on him and smothered him to death. Mr. Solomon reported his discovery to the sheriff this morning, and as no one was found to make an affidavit, the body was buried at the expense of the county, without an in-

He was released on $10,000 bail to answer Monday. A little later in the day Deputy Sheriff Patrick Fitzgerald was arrested upon the charge of patric layeau. in the day Deputy Sheriff Patrick Fitzgerald was arrested upon the charge of petit larceny and extortion. Fitzgerald belongs to the first assembly district of Tammany. He has been three years deputy sheriff. The indictment against Martin was found on the testimony of Charles C. Francklyn and John Noturar, of the law firm of Butler, Stillman & Hubbard. Francklyn was arrested October 20, 1887, in a suit brought by Sir Bache Cunard, of the Cunard Steamship company, for $3,000,000, and locked up in Ludlow street jail. He claims that while there Martin, who was then order-of-arrest clerk, received a bribe of $700 from him for the privilege of locating that was a competitive of the control of the ilege of leaving jail every day and consulting with his lawyers. This privilege, he says, was accorded him for eight days. These arrests created considerable excitement. Five indictments for transactions of a similar character are said to have been found. Great activity was observed this afternoon among the detect-ives who made the district attorney's office their headquarters.

Horton, his employer and room-mate, swore on his trial that he killed Horton by striking him on the head with a boot-jack while Horton was endeavoring to shoot him. Saturday the body of Horton was exhumed, and a careful examination of the skull was made by physicians of Chatham county, in the presence of many citizens, and it was found that the skull had been cleft with a sharp steel justrument—presumably a hatchet, which twice penetrated the bone. This discovery settled Davis's fate, possibly, and removes the impression made on many people by his bold bearing and apparently straightforward evidence on the witness stand. Application for commutation of the death sentence will hardly be made after this development.

THE MULE SUPPLY SOLVED. The Marshallville Agricultural Society Buys

a $750 Spanish Jack.

MARSHALLVILLE, Ga., March 18.—[Special.] It is estimated that Macon county, [of which Marshallville is one of the flourishing villiages, has this year spent $30,000 for mules alone. This fact put our agricultural club—one of the best in the state—to thinking; and the the best in the state—to thinking; and the more they thought the more they determined that no longer would they slave it to Tennessee and Kentucky. So they have determined to purchase a Spanish jack, costing $750, or more, if necessary. They have a worthy exemplar in this matter, for it was George Washington who imported the first Spanish jack to this country. This determination to purchase an imported jack was made a joke, at first, but upon reflection, it is a hard, matter-of-fact business arrangement.

A Bridge Span Falls.

Troy, N. Y., March 18.—About 10:30 this morning, the Queensberg span of the old Queensburg-Morean bridge, at Glenn Falls, fell into the Hudson riverr, with workmen upon it. The workmen were taking away a upon it. The workmen were taking away a side beam on the upper side, when the supports gave way. The whole span rolled over, up stream, and fell into the falls below. Two men were killed, two badly injured and two are missing, probably drowned. Several others had narrow escapes.

Dropped All Three of Them.

Dropped All Three of Them.

Montevista, Colorado, March 18.—Thursday night, John McCann, Charles Harris, and Thomas Gallagher, confined in the county jail, overpowered the sheriff when he came in to give them their evening meal, and escaped. The prisoners started up Rio Grande river. Friday morning, Sheriff Hecker, with a posse, started in pursuit. Yesterday morning at day light their camp was discovered. The fugitives were called upon to surrender, but instead of doing so they fired upon the posse. The sheriff returned the fire, shooting three times, and killing his three men. None of the sheriff's posse was injured.

CLEVELAND, Ga., March 18.—[Special.]— Hon. John Palmer, of Dawson county, was in this place yesterday looking after the race for the sehate in the thirty-sec.nd district. It is Dawson's time by rotation, and Mr. Palmer, Pomp Stricklin and John Singleton, are all mentioned in connection with that race.
None of them, however, yet fully announced
so far as we know.

QUITMAN, Ga., March 18.—[Special.]—A gentleman took this correspondent into his confidence and showed him a fine specimen of what is believed to be phosphate. He has placed some of it in the hands of a chemist for examination, and meanwhile his feelings, during his state of expectancy, are hard to analyze.

of bridges, buildings, railroads or other structures composed wholly or in part of wood, including the right to contract for and do the work of building and equipping any railroad in whole or in part, or to do a commission business in structural materials of any sure; the purchase and sale of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, including the right to issue bonds or other evidences of indebtemess and secure the payment of the same by mortgage, deed of trust or orther legal security, and generally to do all things necessary or proper to be done by construction or improvement companies.

Their principal place of business will be in the

to be done by construction or improvement com-panies.

Their principal place of business will be in the city of Atlanta in said county, but they desire the privilege of establishing agencies or other places of business as they may see proper. The amount of capital to be employed by them will be five hun-dred thousand dollars, divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, but they desire the privi-lege of commencing business when ten per cent of that amount shall have eeen subscribed and paid in, and of increasing their capital, as they may see fit, to an amount not exceeding two million dol-lars.

nt, to an amount not exceeding two minion iorilars.

The time for which they desire to be incorporated is twenty years, with the privilege of renewal at the expiration of that period.

They therefore pray that they, their aesociates, successors and assigns may be incorporated by and under the name of "Georgia Timberland Improvement Company," for the period aforesaid, with all the rights, powers rad privileges set forth and such others as may be authorized by law.

THE STOCK MARKET. The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

New YORK, March 18.—The stock market today was extremely dull, narrow and almost entirely professional, with consequent sagging tendency in prices which, however, as a rule, resulted in othing but slight fractional recessions. Reports of cutting of rates were prevalent and gave bear-ish traders what little encouragement they had during the day. The opening of the market was marked by a more vigorous attempt to down the list than we have seen for some days, and the Union Pacific was the special object of attack, being reported as one of the offenders in the rate cutting line. The bears are looking for a stringent money market, but before making a de-termined raid are awaiting Gould's return, to see whether or not he will interfere. There was some improvement in sugar refineries and in specialties. The market closed fairly steady, with prices reportally slightly below resterday's marked by a more vigorous attempt to down the with prices generally slightly below yesterday's closing. Sales 17,000 listed, and 20,000 unlisted.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular. NEW YORK, March 18-(Special)—A combina-tion of political and strike news from Germany and England was more than our market could and England was more than our market could stand, though the action of Liverpool was thought to point to a quick settlement of the strike among the coal miners. Selling by the Germans started the decline which continued with scarcely a reaction to the close, gradually bringing long cotton upon the market as each succeeding quotation was lost. The close was steady but heavy, as the shorts having been afraid to sell have not large lines out. Cables from Manchester state that wave of the Cables from Manchester state that many of the mills in Blackburn and Belton have been com pelled to stop because of the scarcity of coal.
Unless this strike is soon settled it is apparent that trade in Great Britain will be seriously affected, and until some agreement is arrived at be-tween the miners and their employers the cotton situation will be difficult to forecast. Light receipts have evidently lost their influence, and the original bulls as yet show no inclination to again enter the market. New Orleans receipts tomorrow are estimated from 3,500 to 4,000 bales. That mar-ket led in the decline today.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in Grain and Provisions. Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, March 18—Wheat—There was a good trade within a moderate range. Prices, however, were subject to numerous and quite sudden changes during the session. The opening was ½ 83% clower, and the close was about 3% clower than yesterday. Early in the day traders felt rather bullish, but later many felt a little uncertain. There was no doubt a disposition on the part of the more conservative traders to await warmer weather and see what actual damage has been done to the growing wheat. Quick turns for profit marked the day.

marked the day. Corn was quite active at times, ruling a little irregular, the feeling being quite strong, but later reacted, losing most of the advance. The early strength was due to reports of wet weather in the west and to the firmer tone in wheat. Offerings were rather limited and buying scattering. The reaction later was influenced by larger receipts and increased offerings by receivers, and the close was a shade lower than yesterday.

Onts—There was a fair volume of business with a higher range of prices, due to the letter feeling Corn was quite active at times, ruling a little

Oats—There was a fair volume of business with a higher range of prices, due to the better feeling in wheat and corn, and prices advance \(\frac{1}{2} \cdot \frac{1}{2} \cdot feeling developed at the close and all the advance

Mess pork-Quite an active business was reported and prices ruled somewhat irregular. The feeling was rather unsettled, especially during the early part of the day, and the market closed compara-

Lard-A fair trade and steadier feeling. The opening sales were at about yesterday's closing figures, but later prices rallied 5@71/4c. Toward the close the feeling was easier, and the advance was not maintained. Short rib sides-An unusually brisk business was ransacted, and the market developed considerable strength about the middle of the session. Shorts bought freely, and several round lots changed hands, including one lot of 1,500,000 pounds for May delivery. Prices were advanced 5@7½c, but settled back 2½c, and closed comparatively steady. (IEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—TO THE SU(I perior court ef said county: The petition of

G. V. Gress, J. L. Hamilton, Jr., J. W. Branning, George S. May and C. J. Haden, shows that, for the purpose of pecuniary gain, they have associated themselves under the name of "Georgia Timler-land Improvement company," and that they desire, for themselves, their associutes, successors and assigns, to become incorporated by and under that name, and in such corporate name and capacity to conduct business. That the principal business they propose to carry on is the purchase and sale, or lease, of lands and timber: the improvement of property in any way they may desire, including the construction of sewers, drains, gas, electric or water works, or any other structures or appliances by which realty may be improved; the ownership or control and operation of saw mills; the manufacture and disposition of lumber of every description, and of any article or thing into which it enters or may be used; the erection of bridges, buildings, railroads or other structures composed wholly or in part of wood, including the right to contract for and do the work of building and equipping any railroad in whole or in part, or to do a commission business in structural materials of any sort; the purchase and sale of bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, including the right to issue bonds or other evidences of indebtedness, and secure the payment of the same by mortgage, deed of trust or other legal security; and generally to do all things necessary or proper to be done by contracting or improvement companies. Their principal place of business will be in the city of Atlanta, it said county, but they desire the privilege of establishing agencies or other places of business as they may see proper. The amount of capital to be employed by them will be five hundred thousand dollars, divided into shares of one hundred dollars each, but they desire the privilege of commencing business when ten pe jan23-d1y
